LA SALLE COLLEGE

PHILADELPHIA

PENNSYLVANIA

In her honor we dedicate this book

What a pleasure it is for us to recall the pleasant scenes of boyhood! The days of carefree play always bring memories that give joy to our heart and yet in the midst of our happy playing what a blow it was to realize that parental authority was beckoning to us. In the enthusiasm of our indulgence in a game, we may not for a time have heard the summons. Then an older person passing by would tap us on the shoulder and tell us: "Your mother is calling you."

On November 1, 1954, Our Holy Father Pope Pius XII, in inaugurating the Marian Year tapped the shoulder of the Catholic World to remind us that Our Heavenly Mother is calling us. Why is she calling us? Because she has a way out of the difficulty which enmeshes the world. Her counsel is the same as that given to the waiters of Cana in Galilee, "Whatsoever He shall say to you, do ye." Our Mother bids us hearken to the message of the Prince of Peace, Her Own Divine Son.

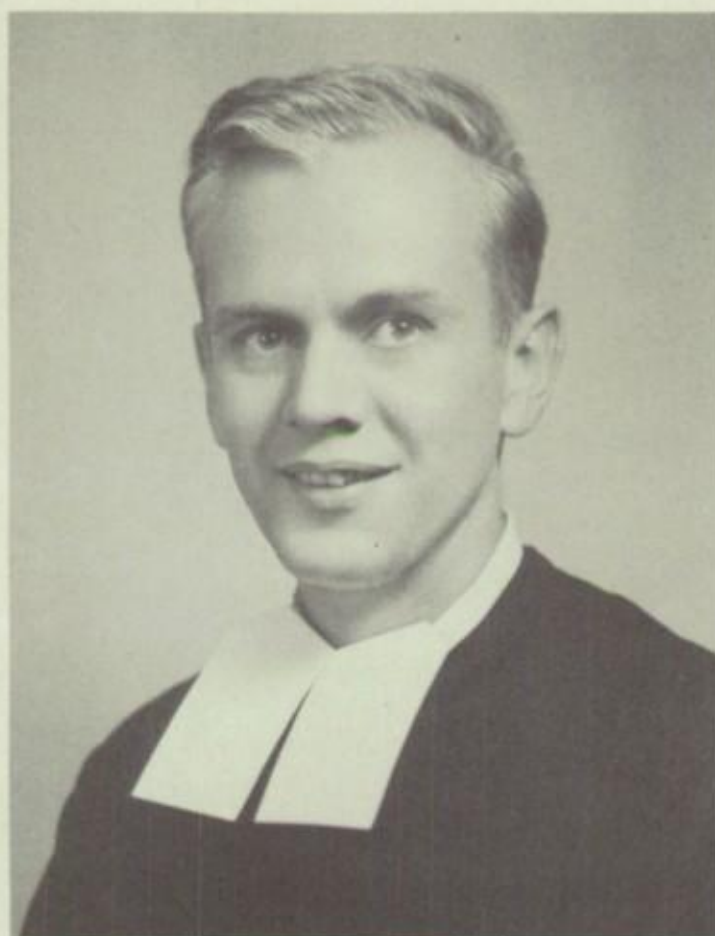

As we step out to assume responsibility for the conduct of our lives in this Marian Year, what a comfort it is for us to know that Our Blessed Mother is calling us to take refuge under the mantle of her powerful and unfailing protection. What assurance is born of the recollection that "never was it known that anyone who had recourse to her protection or implored her help was ever left unaided."

Mindful of our Blessed Mother's personal and perpetual interest in us, and pledging ourselves to be her faithful petitioners, now and at the hour of our death, we dedicate this 1954 Explorer to her!

From many nations, as well as from our own alumni, come the men who form La Salle's faculty. The day and evening schools can boast of many teachers of true erudition who compose their respective faculties. In addition to this, during our stay at La Salle they have constantly lent sympathetic understanding to the multiple problems that can arise in an undergraduate's life. We take this opportunity to thank the members of La Salle's faculty.

The Staff of the 1954 EXPLORER extends to the rest of the senior class its best and sincerest wishes for success in any and all endeavors which they may undertake. There is not room here, nor does our memory recall to us all the important events, to give a concise resumé of our stay at La Salle. Spiced with gripes, but mainly flavored with remembrances of happy days, the years which seemed at the beginning unending, have with surprising swiftness come to an end.

In this book we hope that you, as La Salle alumni, may recall the things, people, and events which made up your undergraduate days. It was a year when most of the clubs carried on active programs, when scholastic awards for future study amounted to a considerable number, and when our athletic teams achieved championships in basketball, track, and swimming . . . not a bad year to look back on in the future.

We leave to those who will record the history of the Class of '55 the headaches and the fun of the job we would not have wanted to miss but which we are not anxious to do soon again.

OUR JUBILARIANS

For sixty years Brother Elesbaan Felix has worn the habit of the Brother of the Christian Schools. This habit holy in its associations as it is, is but the covering for a heart totally devoted to the love and service of his Divine Master.

For many of his sixty years, Brother Felix has given the best of his talent and the shining light of his exemplary example to the progress of LaSalle. In felicitating him on his diamond jubilee, we, at the same time thank him for his generous contribution of service in promoting the growth of our college.

Pray for us, Brother, that the "well done" which crowns your efforts may be our privilege to win also.

The graduating class of La Salle gladly joins the ranks of the many friends of Brother George Lewis, who find it such a delight to congratulate him on his Golden Jubilee. Brother George Lewis is a man who has written his name large in the annals of our school by reason of the nobility of his character and the superiority of his teaching and administrative service.

Have a real happy Jubilee, Brother, and remember that as we prepare to leave La Salle, we pledge ourselves to hold you in grateful memory. We hope that your joy in the years to come will be increased by the knowledge that we have profited by your example and your teaching.

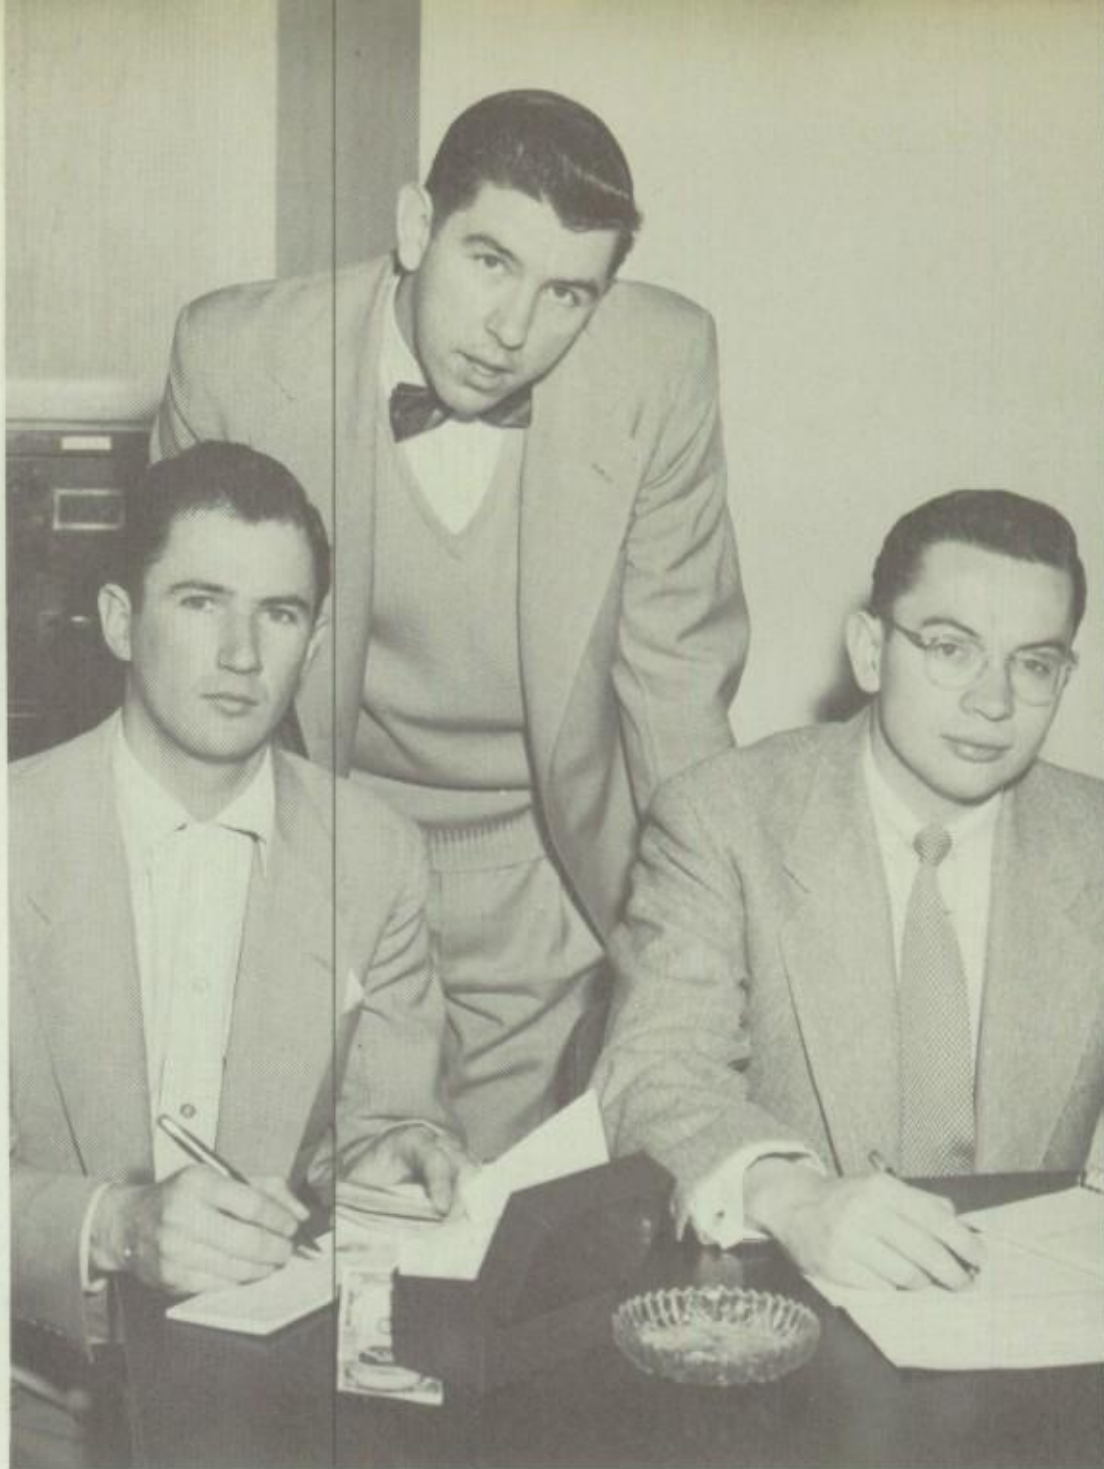

We Cast An Eye On Our Myriad

The extra-curricular activities in which a La Salle man may participate are numerous and well diversified. Besides sports, a student may pursue interests in journalism, dramatics, debating, music, and a host of other fields, some of which the student may select because of their direct connection with his major subject; others are joined for their more social aspects. Whatever the activity, its function is to provide recreation, relaxation, and a developing interest in the things the particular organization is promoting.

ON THE LEFT. Student Council President, Bill Wingel, who was a unanimous choice for his post, receives well deserved congratulations from the Student Council moderator, Brother Francis.

Sophomore Council member Bob Romaine has apparently injected a note of humor into one of the meetings. The Student Council met every month to hear student ideas and complaints and to transact business affecting the four classes.

COUNCIL

The two four-class dances this year were, as has been the custom, the Harvest Dance and the Blue and Gold Ball. The former, an informal affair, was held at the Broadwood Hotel. The latter, the formal dance of the year, was at the Bellevue Stratford, with Charlie Spivak's band providing the entertainment. Both dances were well attended and were considered tremendous successes. ABOVE. The Blue and Gold Ball committee, which was largely responsible for the success of the affair, pose with their dates at the Bellevue.

MARKETING ASSOCIATION

The musical this year was the first off-Broadway production of Rodgers and Hart's tune-ful "Babes in Arms." The worried expressions on the faces of Dan Rodden, the director, Joe Colontonio, the musical director and Nancy Budzik, the choreographer, were premature. The large audiences were delighted with the show during its five-night run.

The male chorus takes its pitch from crooning Bob Schaefer, who holds the microphone as Mr. Rodden listens with rapture (?). The "Rodden Touch" placed "Babes in Arms" in the hit category.

Ticket seller Heller, players Bob Schaefer, Gerry Faiss, and Bob Freed have a between-rehearsal get together with Laura O'Brien, who scored a big hit in the singing and acting departments.

THE MASQUE OF LA SALLE

The Masque, which was reactivated this year after a lapse of several years, made more progress than any other club on campus in so short a time. Two shows in rather quick succession were given under Masque auspices and both were received enthusiastically by all.

Three of the masterminds behind La Salle's productions this year were the Masque's hardworking president, Ace Bradley, its talented set designer, Jack Lombard and its tireless ticket chairman, Ed Heller. Here, Lombard's newest sketch meets with the approval of Bradley and Heller.

The Board of Governors and other members of the Masque are shown here. The Board, an eleven member group elected from the Masque membership, is the policy-making body of the organization.

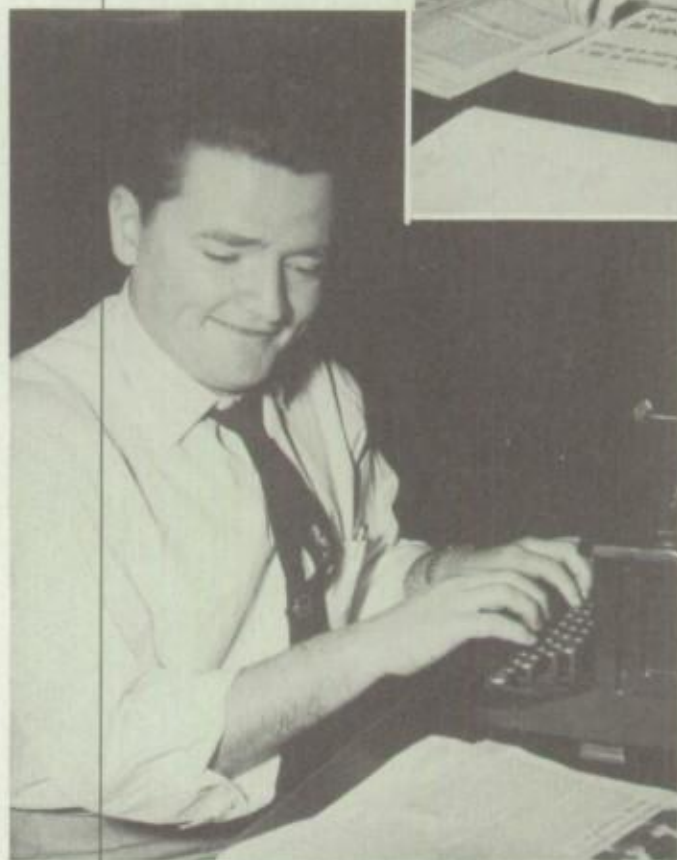

The year's straight play was the Thurber-Nugent hit, "The Male Animal." Well acted and with an excellent set, the play was a combination of the battle of the sexes and a cheer for academic freedom. ABOVE. John McCrane, on the sofa, the villain, gives a warning to young Professor Turner and his wife (Joe Griffin and Marilyn Cronin), as McCrane's patient wife (Joni Hartman) looks on.

Blue & Gold Ball Tickets Go on Sale January 4

Ticket sales for the 1954 Blue and Gold Ball, to be held in the main ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Friday evening, January 22, will begin on Monday, January 4.

The ticket booth will be set up at the Nineteenth Street entrance of College Hall and the tickets will sell for six dollars apiece including favor and aide. "In exchange for your six dollars," dance chairman Al Avalone said, "we will guarantee you an evening of real pleasure. The Blue and Gold has always been the event of the year."

Music for this year's formal will be furnished by Chaine Spivak and his band. Spivak is well-known in musical circles as one of the nation's top aggregations.

Proceeds Go to Classes

Proceeds from the dance will be divided proportionately among the classes and the alumni. The dance

N.F.C.C.S.

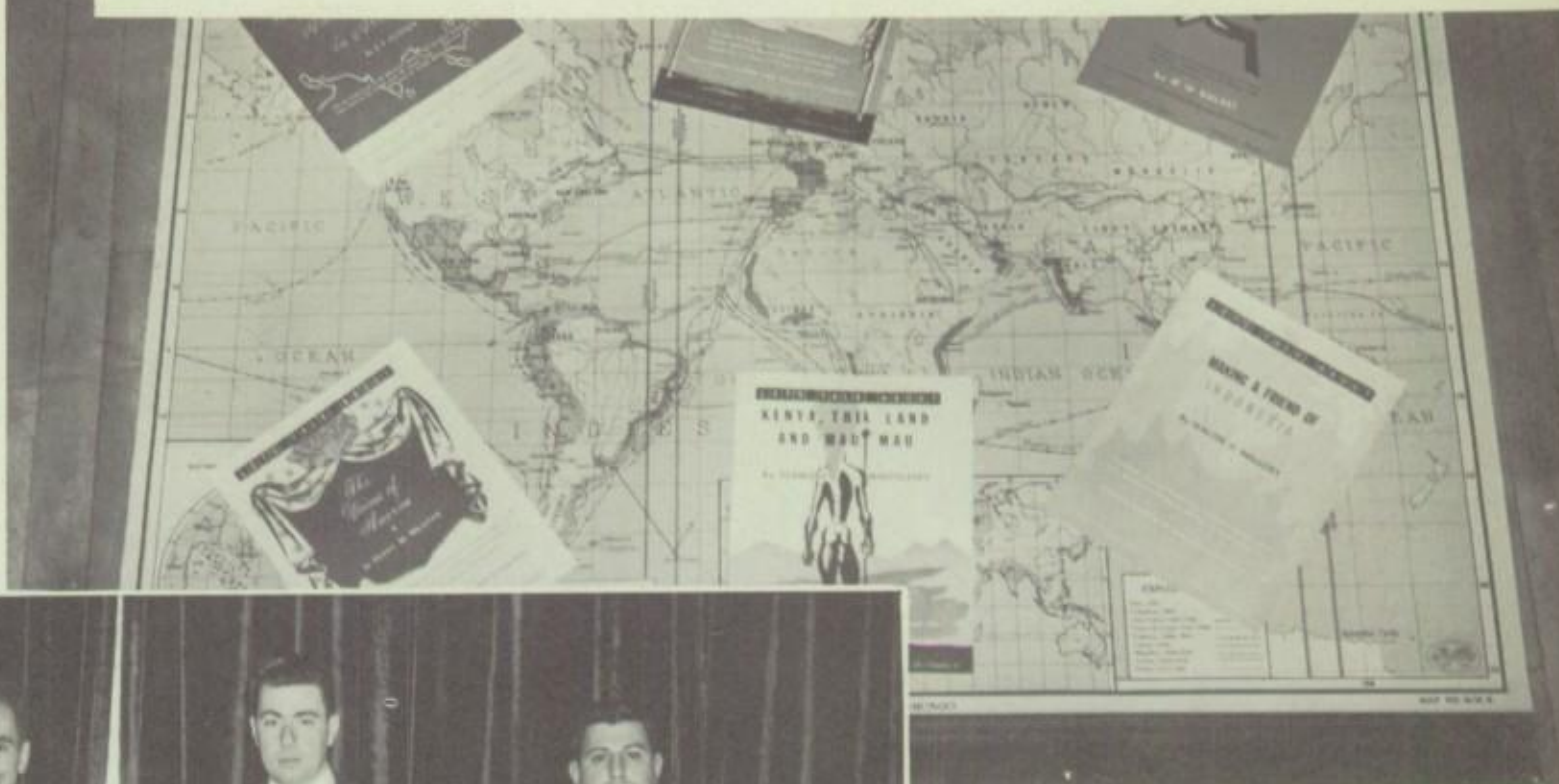

The N.F.C.C.S. at La Salle enables interested students and clubs on campus to exchange information and to coordinate their activities with similarly minded Catholic groups throughout the country. Its moderator, Brother Augustine, and its president, Ronald Giangemi, have led the group in participating in regional and national affairs such as debates and round-table discussions.

CIRCOLO LASALLIANO

In keeping with its socio-academic aims, the Italian Club, besides conducting a varied social program, offers cultural opportunities to all students interested in Italian art, music, and literature.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The I.R.C. had an upsurge of activity this year as Bill Weber, the President, provided the members with a series of expert guest speakers, debates, and films. Most of this can also be credited to the active interest taken in the group by its moderator, Mr. Robert Courtney.

CHYMIAN SOCIETY

The Chymian Society is organized for the purpose of fostering interest in chemistry. This society received a charter in 1949 from the American Chemical Society as a chapter of student affiliates. Lectures, movies, plant visits, and various other projects including some social activities constitute the programs held bi-weekly. Students majoring in chemistry are eligible for membership.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The History Club this year had a large increase in membership. It sponsored social functions, meetings with various guest speakers and, perhaps its most interesting undertaking of the year, took part in the radio quiz show "Challenge the Champs" on which they achieved several victories, running on the program for seventeen weeks. The credit for the club's success this year lay in the ability and hard work of the officers. Above, Bob Freed, club President, initiates one of the discussion periods which the club engaged in. The other officers were Charles De Marco, Vice-President; Joe Burns, treasurer, and Norman Pyle, Secretary.

A.E.D.

A chapter of this National Premedical Honor Society has been established on the La Salle campus. It is known as the Pennsylvania Delta chapter. The object of this society is:

- (1) To encourage excellence in premedical scholarship.
- (2) To stimulate an appreciation of the importance of premedical education in the study of medicine.
- (3) To promote cooperation and contacts between medical and premedical students and educators in developing an adequate program of premedical education.
- (4) To bind together similarly interested students.

Among the activities in which A.E.D. members took part were tours of medical schools and their laboratories. RECENTLY, a group of A.E.D.'ers inspect medical instruments at the U. of P. BELOW, last year's president, Paul Eisenstein, and this year's president, Matt Bucko, were among those who took part in Penn's Pre-medical Conference.

The Society presented a full schedule of events designed to provide its members with a more intimate knowledge of the medical profession. There were numerous lectures by prominent scientists and various other meetings.

FABRICIAN SOCIETY

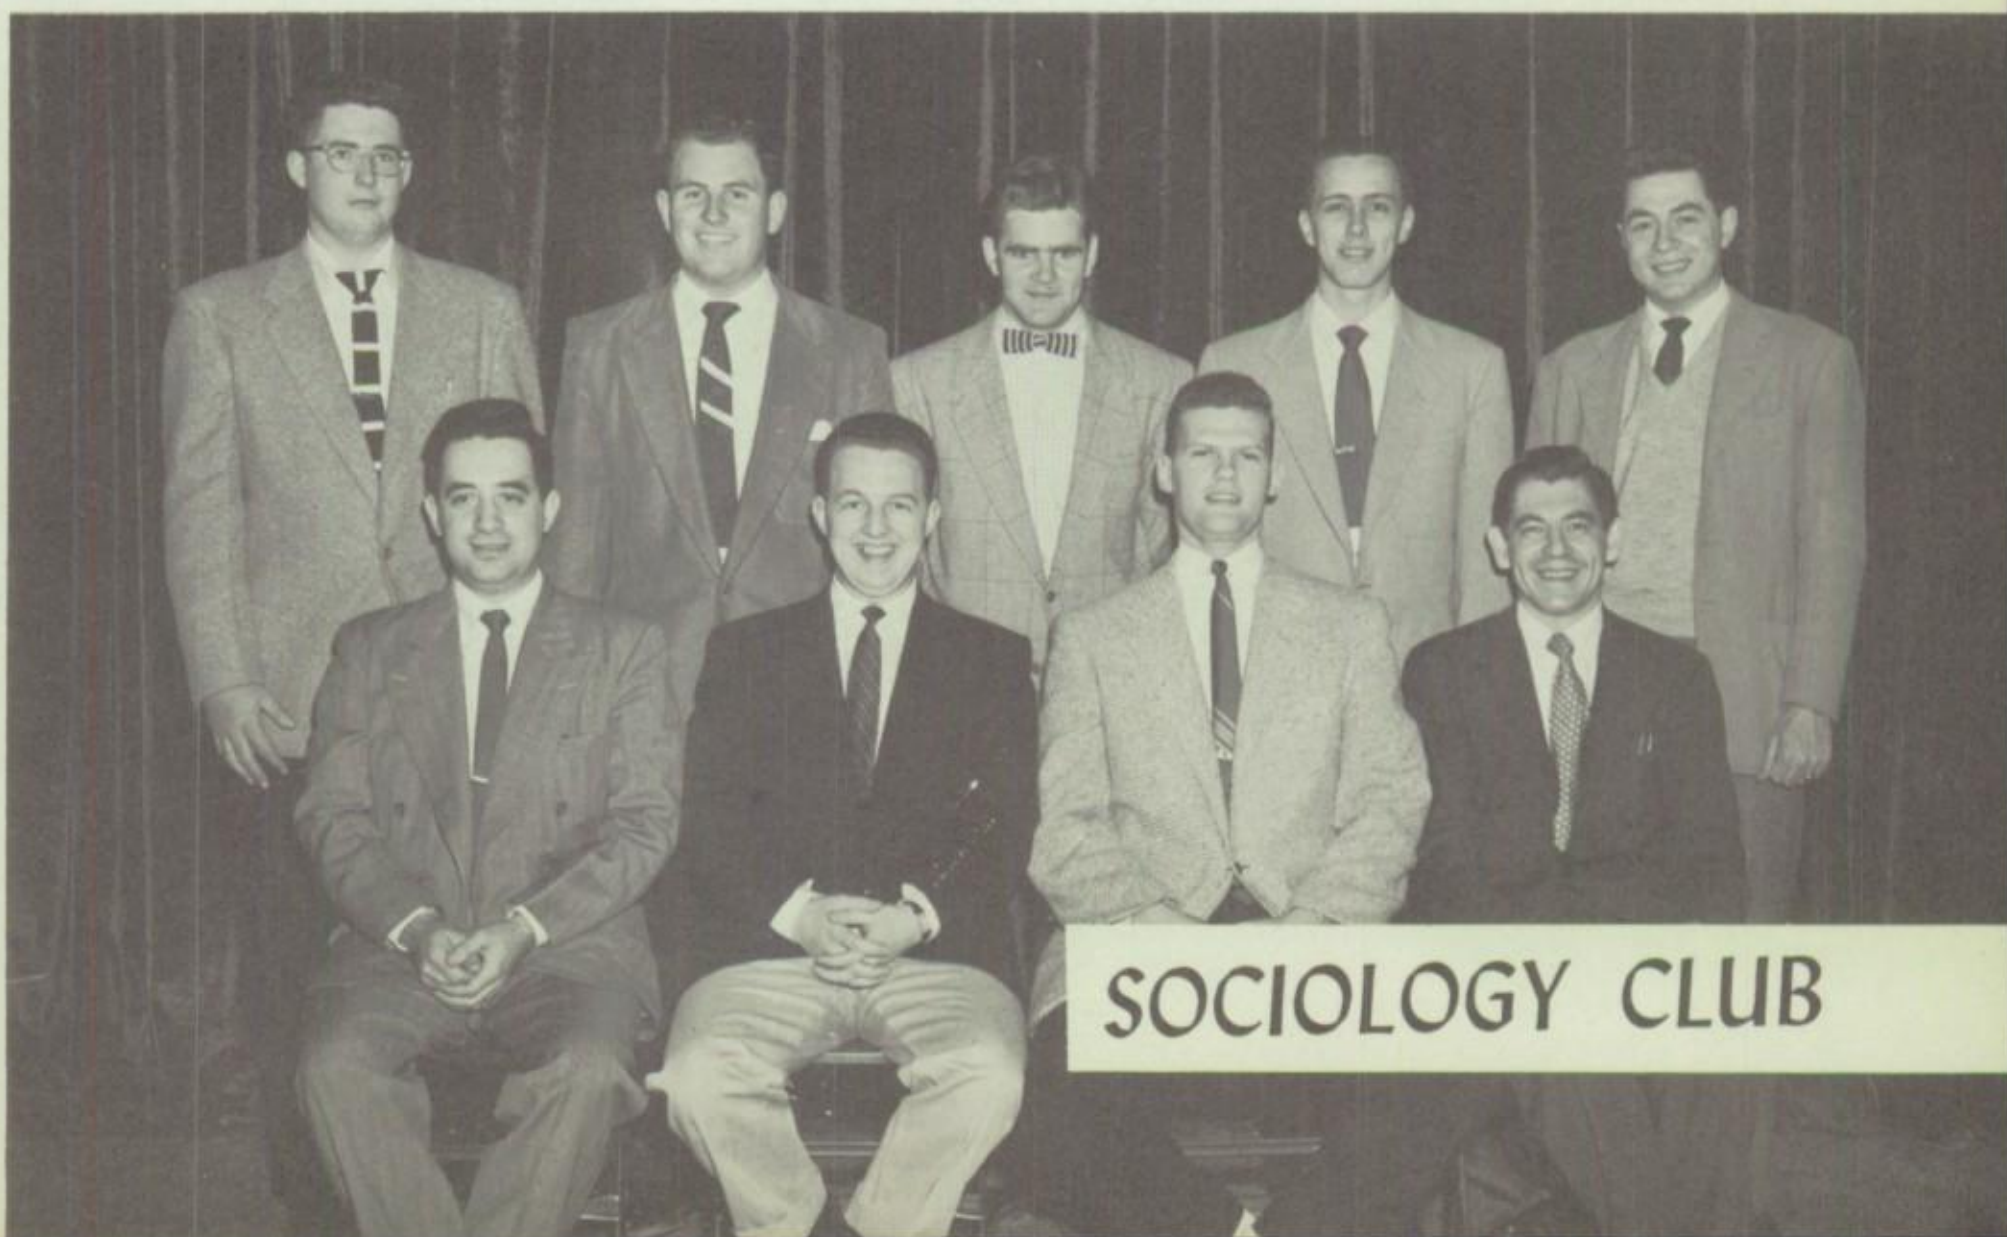

The Fabrician Society is open to all students interested in the biological sciences. Founded in 1933 as the Premedical Society of LaSalle College, it succeeded in erecting on the campus a chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta. Its aims, therefore, are similar to those of the latter group.

BENILDE CLUB

The Benilde Club seeks to aid those who believe they may have vocations or who are interested in hearing of the formation and works of the various religious orders that compose the clergy of the Catholic Church. They are pictured here with one of their displays which features the life of the Christian Brothers.

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

The Gavel had an extremely successful season of debating. Two of its members came in for special honors. Joseph O'Brien, its past president and present secretary was adjudged the best debator in the St. Joseph's Tournament. A like honor was bestowed on William Henhoeffler, next year's president, at the Fredericksburg Tournament. From the St. Joseph's encounter, La Salle brought home a cup which dwarfed the N.C.A.A. trophy in the book store window.

Basil Andruik, this year's president, leaves the office with the club stronger and with the year capped with a successful banquet.

NEWTONIAN SOCIETY

The Newtonian Society is an academic organization devoted to the interests of students in the physical sciences. The society sponsors frequent lectures, given by the faculty, members, or invited guests.

The Newtonian Society likewise supports other activities of a scientific or social nature, as the opportunities of the school calendar and the interest of the members direct.

GLEE CLUB

Traditionally, the Glee Club at LaSalle has been a symbol of the high appreciation of the finer things of life found among LaSalle men. Not only has the Glee Club been a musical group; it has always been a friendly group whose members were held together by a fraternal spirit of comradeship. We will long remember all of the concerts and Christmas serenades conducted during our four years at LaSalle.

The Club Officers, Joe Kearney, Dick Blaszczy, and Al Pierce, who conducted the year's activities.

Dealing less with credits and debits, and more with the social aspects of accounting, the society of future C.P.A.'s did, however, combine with their socializing, various projects and speakers designed to acquaint the members with opportunities in the accounting field.

ACCOUNTING ASSOCIATION

These happy faces are evidence of a good time at the frat's Thanksgiving Dance.

Attendance at S.B.K. affairs was never lacking. ABOVE, the Philadelphia Rifle Club barely houses the crowd at this year's Thanksgiving Dance.

S.B.K.

In the spring of 1947, the Gamma Chapter of Sigma Beta Kappa was formed on the campus of La Salle College. A national Catholic organization devoted primarily to the development of character and campus leadership on the basis of a strong sense of Christian morality, the fraternity membership is limited by its charter to a small segment of the student body.

Any undergraduate of the College may be pledged to Sigma Beta Kappa, the deciding factors in the selection of new members being the ability of the pledge to carry out the aims of the group.

Each chapter of the National Fraternity is required to adopt as a secondary aim some political, social, or economic phase of Catholic action. Prior to the final approval of its charter and by-laws at the end of the Summer of 1947, La Salle's Chapter, in a unanimous decision of its charter members, voted to advance a sound program of Catholic Youth Welfare.

Here, most of the members of the S.B.K. fraternity pose with their moderator, Brother Cyril, outside College Hall. Definitely not a fraternity of strangers, the S.B.K. is the only social frat on campus.

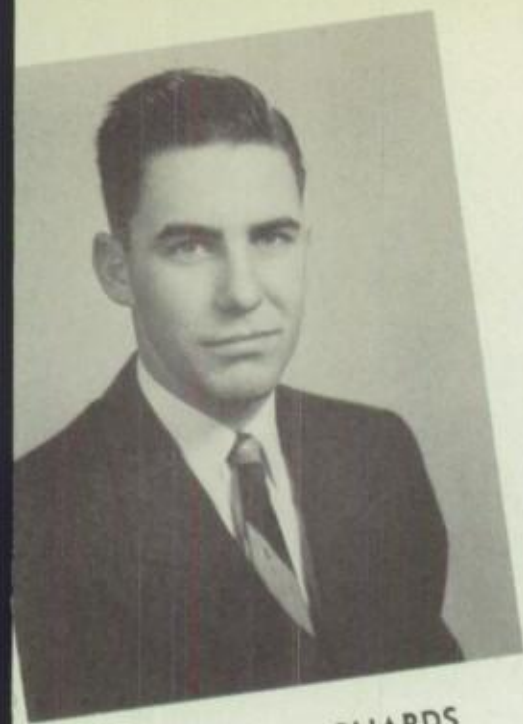

EDUCATION SOCIETY

ABOVE, Brother Azarias, head of the Education Department and moderator of the Education Society, points out our statue of St. John the Baptist de La Salle, the patron of all teachers and the founder of the Christian Brothers, to M. Louis De Fonde, the Director of the Normal School in Paris. M. De Fonde toured America under the sponsorship of the National Educational Association to study the systems employed by outstanding American teacher training colleges. Besides the courses in education offered at La Salle, M. De Fonde heard of the other educational projects sponsored by the Education Society, such as lectures by various principals and teachers of the Philadelphia school system. The ROTC Regiment at La Salle will this year graduate twenty-five men with commissions in the Organized Reserve Corps and five men with commissions in the Regular Army. These men represent the first class of ROTC graduates at La Salle who have gone through four years of Military Science in addition to spending six weeks at the Artillery center of the world, Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

In no other organization in the school are the members more closely bound to each other. Both the military staff and the cadet corps have contributed much to the college in displaying ardent school spirit.

In February the members of the Senior Class of the ROTC were taken on a tour of our nation's capital, being billeted at Fort Meyer for the three days of their stay. The high point of the trip was the meeting with Richard Nixon at which meeting each cadet was personally introduced to our Vice-President.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Frank Wetzler, stellar coach, has guided our Explorer Harriers for several seasons now with a good deal of success. The lack of depth on the squad has never hindered him in any way from keeping La Salle consistently in the winning columns.

The Wetzlermen finished the season with a .500 mark, 3 wins and 3 losses. The Explorers wound up the season by capturing second place in this all-important intercollegiate meet, ahead of 12 other entries. Considering the difficult schedule maintained by the squad Coach Frank Wetzler was well pleased with this season's performance. The highlight of the entire season was capturing second place in the all-important MAC meet which closed the current campaign. La Salle headed 12 of the thirteen entries. The MAC victory was a fitting climax to the team's spirit which dominated the squad throughout the entire season.

La Salle's soccer team this year had two tremendous obstacles facing it. The major part of the squad consisted of players who had no previous experience in college soccer. Added to this was a back-breaking schedule which matched La Salle with an array of experienced teams. The result was a season which produced one victory and seven defeats.

In spite of this record, individual performances were excellent and the confidence and skill gained this year should aid next year's booters tremendously.

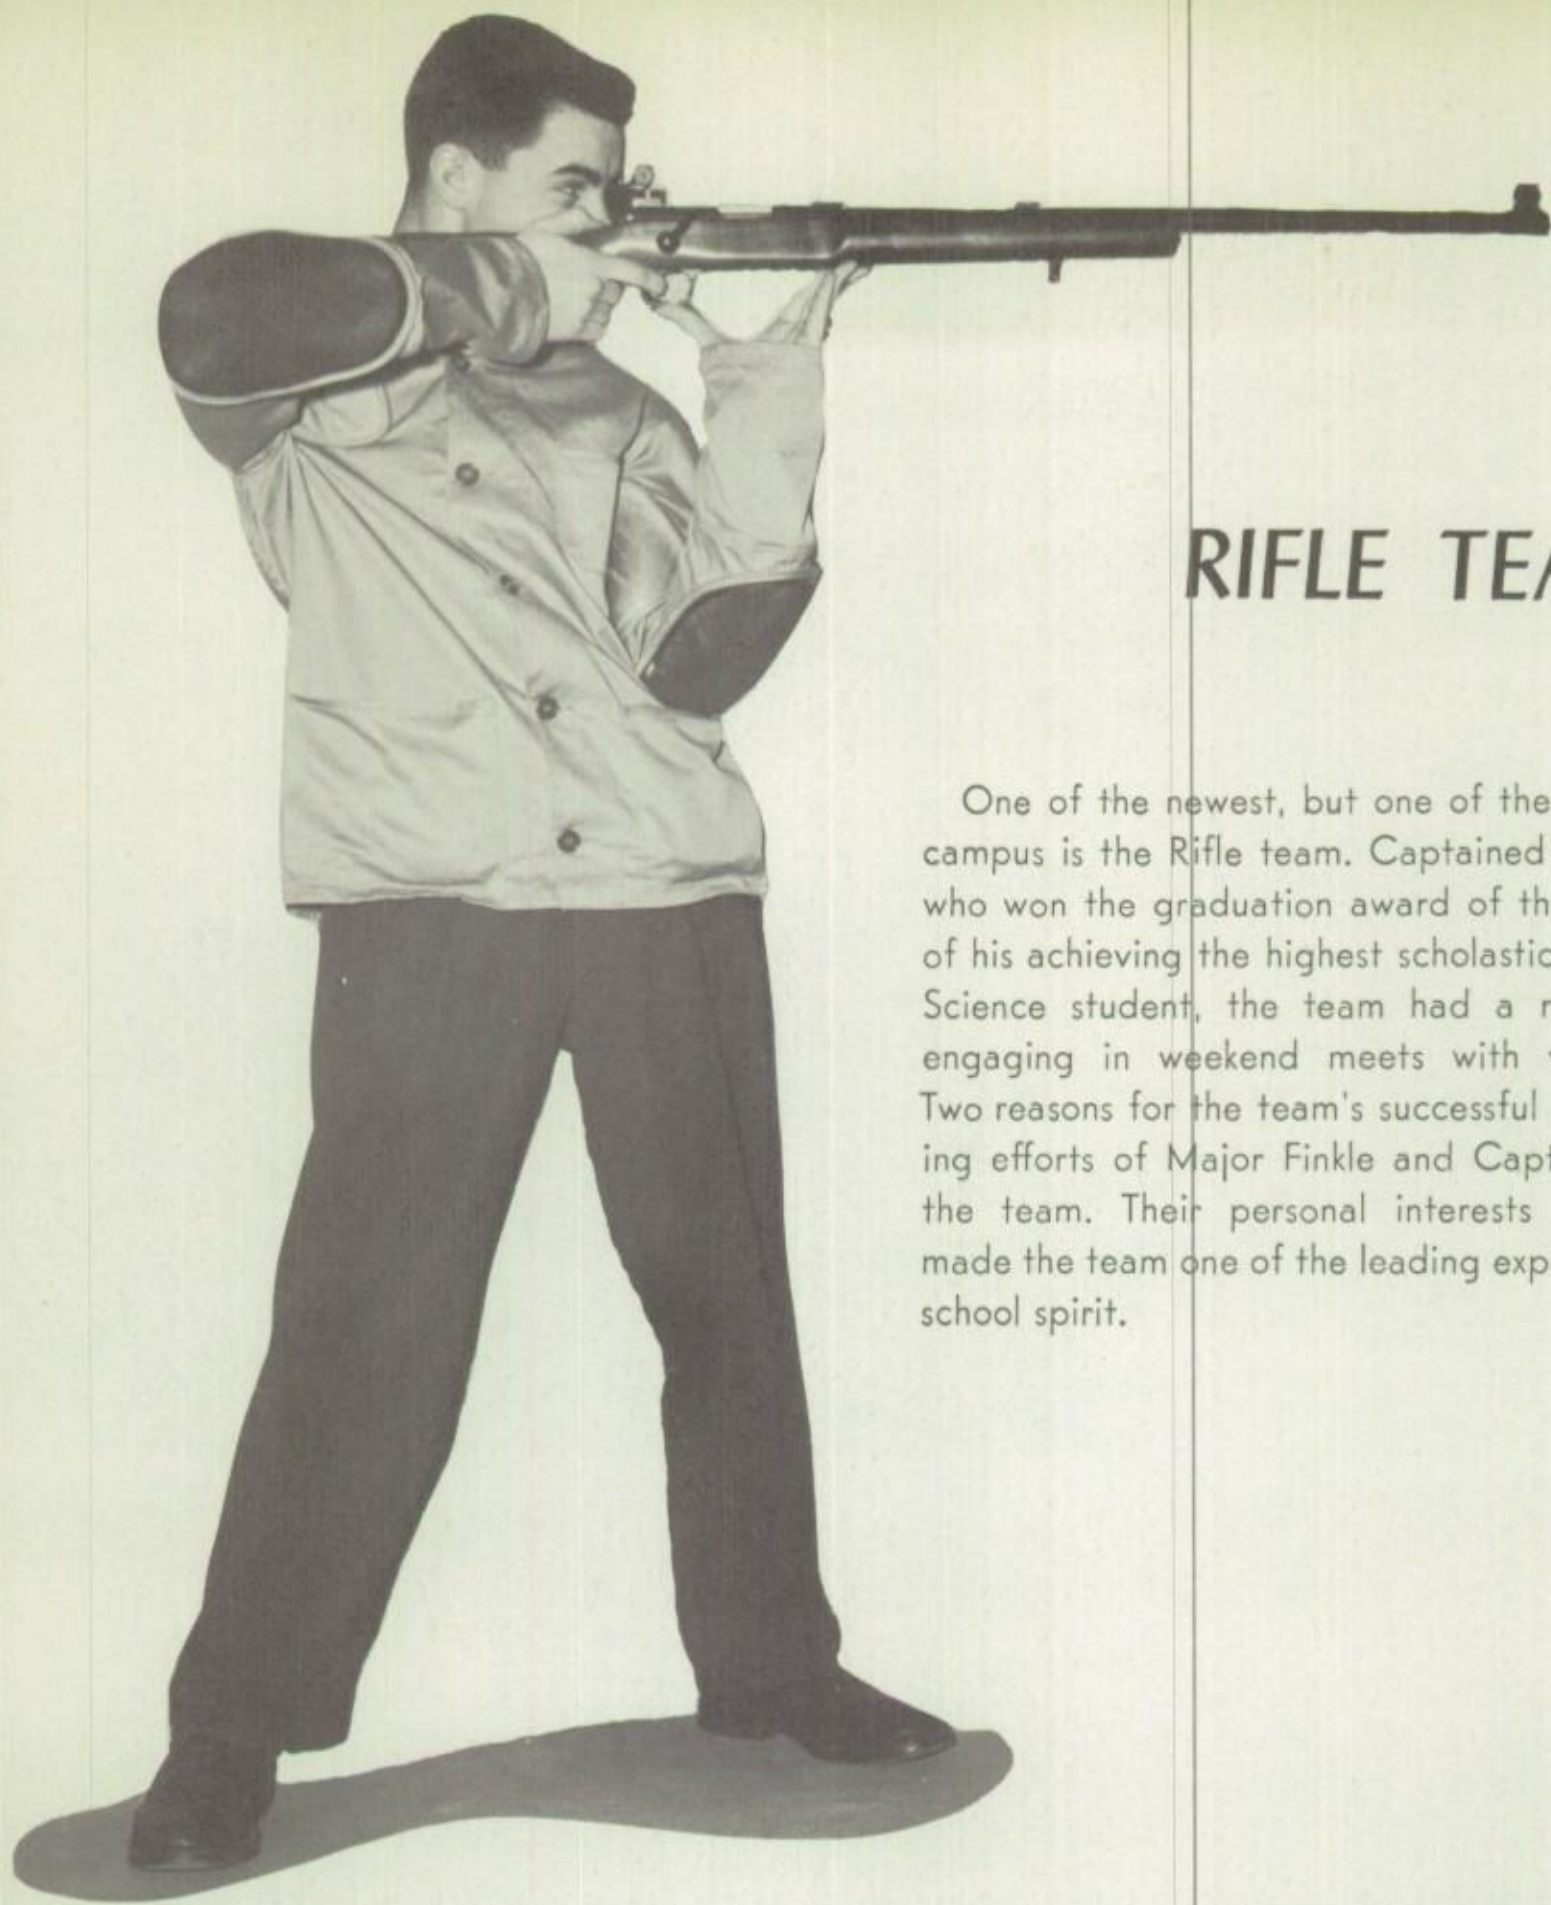

Joe Smith, the booters' coach, must be congratulated on the increasing skill in soccer which he was able to give the novices of the soccer team. Even without Ciecka and Masterson next season, Coach Smith can look forward to a team seasoned by this year's experiences.

"Time Out" A candid, shot and we do mean candid, of Bill Masterson and Ed Ciecka, senior members of the soccer squad. Their jersey's will be hard to fill.

RIFLE TEAM

One of the newest, but one of the most active teams on campus is the Rifle team. Captained by Bob Richards, left, who won the graduation award of the Saber in recognition of his achieving the highest scholastic average of a Military Science student, the team had a relatively good season engaging in weekend meets with various other schools. Two reasons for the team's successful season are the unstinting efforts of Major Finkle and Captain Pannel who coach the team. Their personal interests and hard work have made the team one of the leading exponents of the College's school spirit.

Swimmers Win Metropolitan Swimming Crown; Penn Second

By TOM DEVLIN

La Salle's swimming team, with an amazing show of strength in almost every event, came the first holder of the title, Philadelphia Metropolitan Intercollegiate Swimming Champion. Seven colleges participated in the meet held in Villanova University's pool

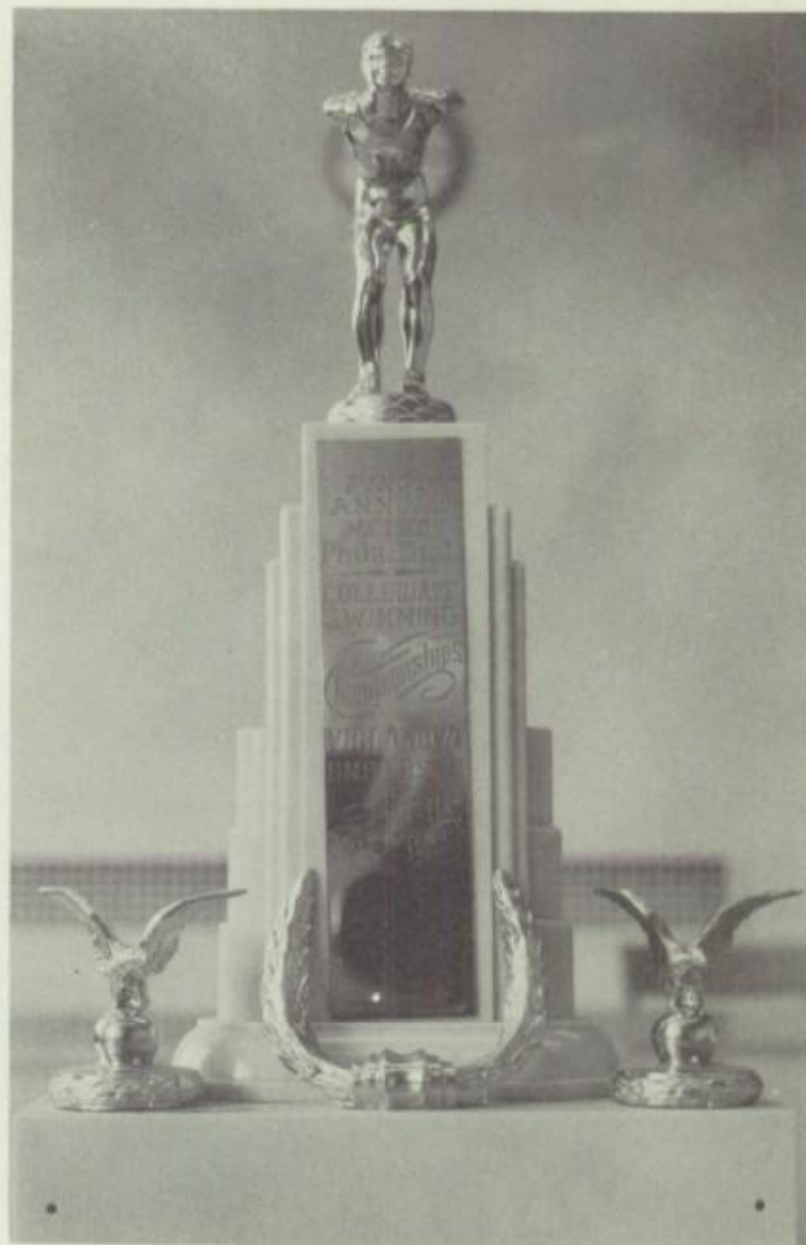

Wednesday, March 10. La Salle led the point production with The University of Pennsylvania followed closely with 61. Temple was third with 32, followed by Villanova and Drexel 6, and West Chester 2. The Red Blue, and the Explorers were in a close scoring battle throughout almost the entire meet, with neither gaining the upper hand until the ninth event. La Salle's Chick McLaughlin and Joe Hockenbrock took first and second places in the 440 yd. style to clinch the meet.

Penn and La Salle dominated the relay events, which were held Wednesday afternoon. The Blue Gold placed sixteen men in the finals, while Penn had four. These extra places were a deciding factor, since The Red and Blue took five first places to the Explorer's four, and Temple's one. The meet was scored 6-4-3-2-1 for the first five places in the individual events, 10-7-5-3-1 for the medley relay, and 12-8-6-4-2 for the style relay. It was the large number of second and third places that enabled the Explorers to Penn's win in the medley relay put them off to a three point lead. As La Salle's team of Paul Friel, Ted Friel and John Hight took second place. In the event, the 220 yd. freestyle, the Explorer's put forth the most outstanding team effort of the meet, sweeping the first three places. Penn was shut out entirely. Temple placed the other two. Joe Hockenbrock took top honors, followed closely by John Hight and Chick McLaughlin. Their effort put La Salle ahead 20-1. Fekete scored Temple's only point in the 50 yd. freestyle. Tom Kean took a fifth place to add to the team. Penn pulled up to within one point of the Olneyites, 27-23. Frank O'Hara, only senior on this year's squad, tries for his pilot's license at Convention Hall against St. Louis, as Tom Gola comes in for "insurance."

At the moment, St. Joseph's (No. 16) Nowacki is both defenseless and humorless as he watches La Salle's Frank Blatcher execute his fancy pivot shot.

Up, up and away for two goes the All-American against the Muhlenberg Mules. This picture shows why the greatest player in the history of La Salle basketball is unstoppable in his drive-ins. The Mule players look as though they can't believe their eyes.

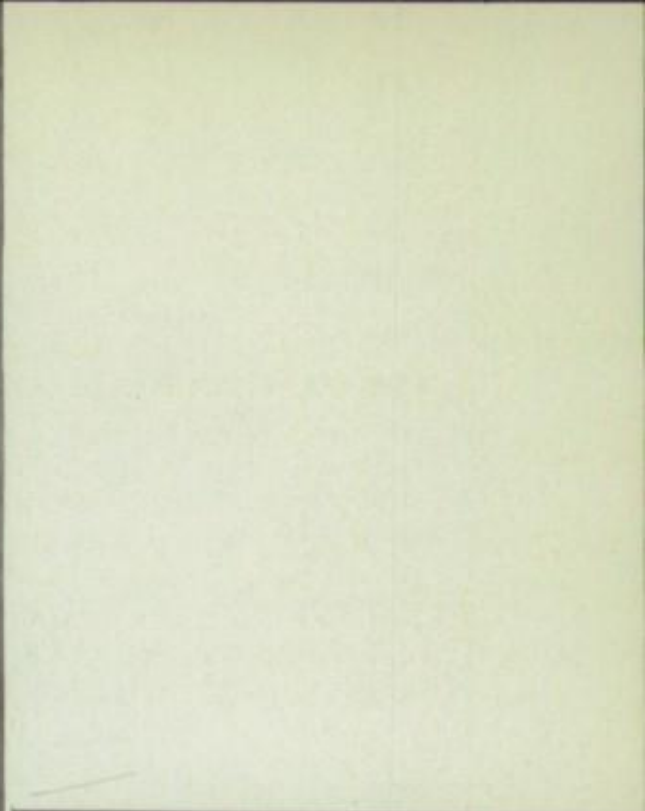

"Stand back, boys, we'll give all the help that will be needed," yell Tom Gola and Fran O'Malley. But Charlie Singley has the situation well in hand against the Billikens and is ready to toss the ball to the All-American despite the Bill's valiant effort. Jerry Koch and Dick Bouska are the two St. Louis players being restrained by the infamous combo of Gola and O'Malley.

Gola, the Great, who best exemplifies the theory of stopping your opponent by not letting him get the ball, bats the ball away from Ionia forward Leibespach. Tom's defensive genius was one of the key factors in the Explorers' success throughout the year.

La Salle's Yodsnukis and O'Malley succeeded in keeping the ball out of the range of both the camera and Lafayette's (No. 17) Rick Weissenborn.

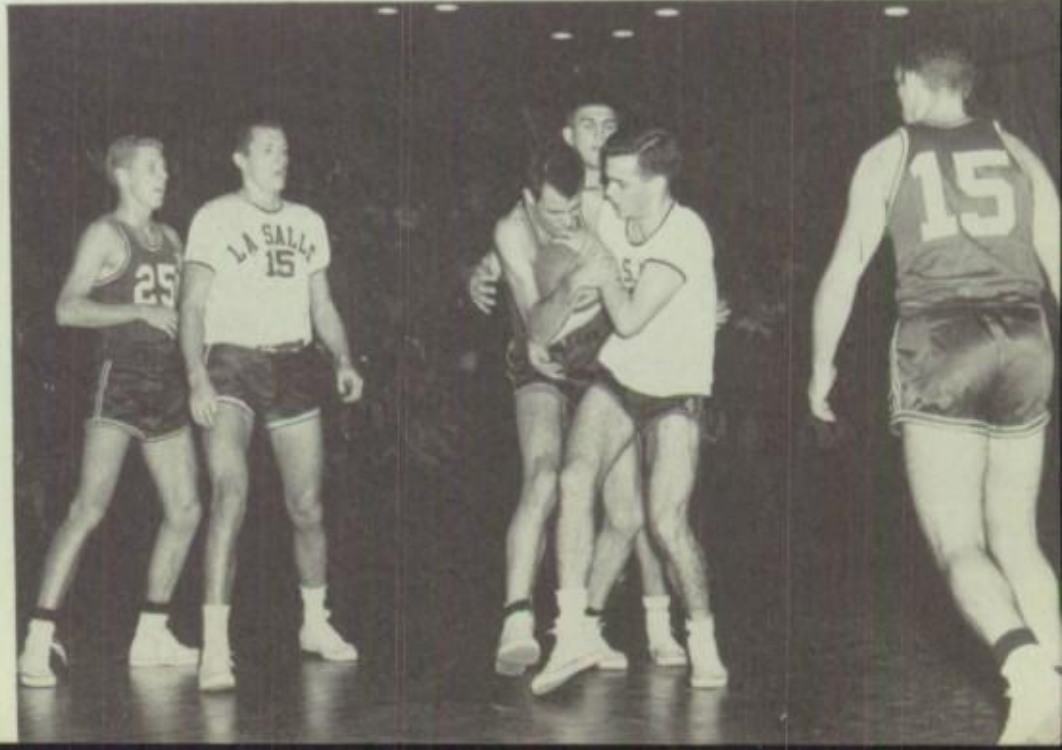

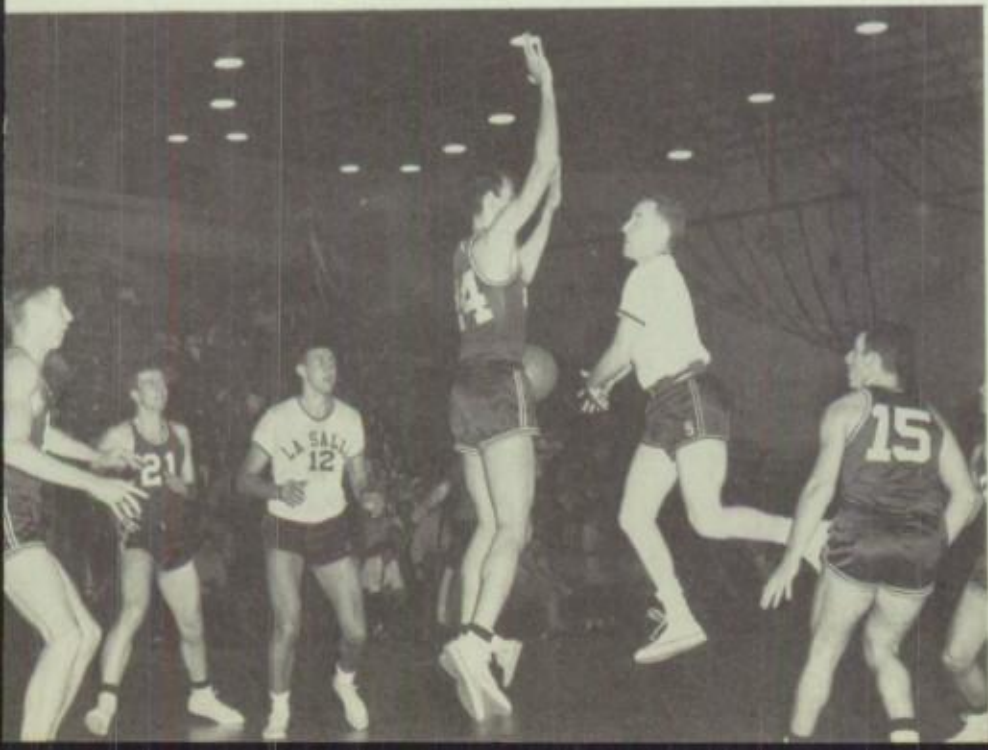

We agree with Lafayette's (No. 15) John Alviggi that Charlie Singley's drive-in lay-up is a beautiful sight to see (No Matter How You Look at It.)

Big John Yodsnukis takes a bead on that basket, and it doesn't seem as if (No. 15) Harry Bach of Millersville, is going to be able to do much about it.

As "Wacky" O'Hara executes a smooth hand-off, Lafayette's (No. 24), Cary Ahl, executes a smoother SWAT!

LaSalle Captures Fifth

La Salle won their twentieth game of the season by downing the hapless St. Joseph's Hawks 78-64 last Saturday night at Convention Hall. The Hawks were fired up for only one quarter, the first, and as for the rest of the game "they shoulda stayed in bed." Combining a tight defense and the "hot hands" of Tom Gola and Frank Blatcher, La Salle completely outclassed their untalented opponents.

Win City Title

In beating the Hawks, La Salle won for the fifth consecutive year the City Collegiate Championship, and the second straight Robert V. Geasey Memorial Trophy. The Explorers record this year was three and one, in this round robin tourney. In taking this championship, La Salle's national rating took a shot in the arm and once again accented La Salle's mastery of local competition.

St. Joe Takes Lead

La Salle started slowly as St. Joe took an early lead of 4-0. There was sloppy ball handling and ragged shooting on both sides in the initial ten minutes. St. Joseph's led at the quarter 15-13. Gola and Company warmed up to the situation and tore the Hawks defense to shreds as the Explorers spurted to a 36-29 margin at half-time.

Gola Stars

Starting the second half of the "contest" the Explorers continued to tear the Hawks apart. St. Joe had trouble with the 2-3 zone employed by the Blue and Gold, being forced to shoot from the outside. It was in the third period that Tom Gola put on a blistering display of floor work and rebounding. In this session "Long Tom" stole the ball numerous times to thwart potential Hawk points. There were at one time three successive intercepted passes that resulted in three buckets for the All-Ameri-

(From Collegian, Feb. 21, 1934)

Lightning struck twice in the same place, when the Explorers' basketball quintet took the measure of St. Joseph College in their second meeting.

The La Sallemen made the Crimson and Gray lads seem bewildered and dazed, by their splurge of point gathering. The determination of various members of the Blue and Gold's squad could not be denied. With a lead

Cagers Meet Billikens in Hall Finale

La Salle's NCAA bound Explorers will end their pre-tournament schedule Saturday night against St. Louis University, in the last Convention Hall doubleheader of the season. This will be their second meeting of the year with the Eddie Hickey coached Billikens. The Blue and Gold handed the St. Louis five a 77-63 lacing at the Holiday Tournament earlier in the campaign. However, the Bills should prove a stiffer test this time, since Dick Boushka, their leading scorer, and Jack Shockley, 6-7 center, who both missed the previous contest, have since returned to action.

Bills Tournament Possibility

St. Louis, itself a strong tournament possibility, features a tall, experienced squad with plenty of speed and rebounding power. Key man in the attack is of course 6-5 Boushka, whom Mound City followers call the "Springfield Rifle" due to the rifle like accuracy of his right-hand jump shot. Dick, a junior engineering student, as sophomore established a new high for scoring averages in the Missouri Valley Conference, eclipsing the former mark of 20.4 hung up by Oklahoma A & M's great Bob Kurland in 1946.

Koch Prime Rebounder

Boushka, is not the only big name in the Blue and White line-up. Jerry Koch, 6-4 junior, is rated by Stanley Woodward's Basketball Annual as one of the ten top players in the Prairie States section. Jerry, is the Billikens prime rebounder, and is expected to compete with Tom Gola for board control. Koch's brother Bob was one of the Bills who were responsible for eliminating La Salle from the National Invitational Tournament, three years ago.

Colorful Captain

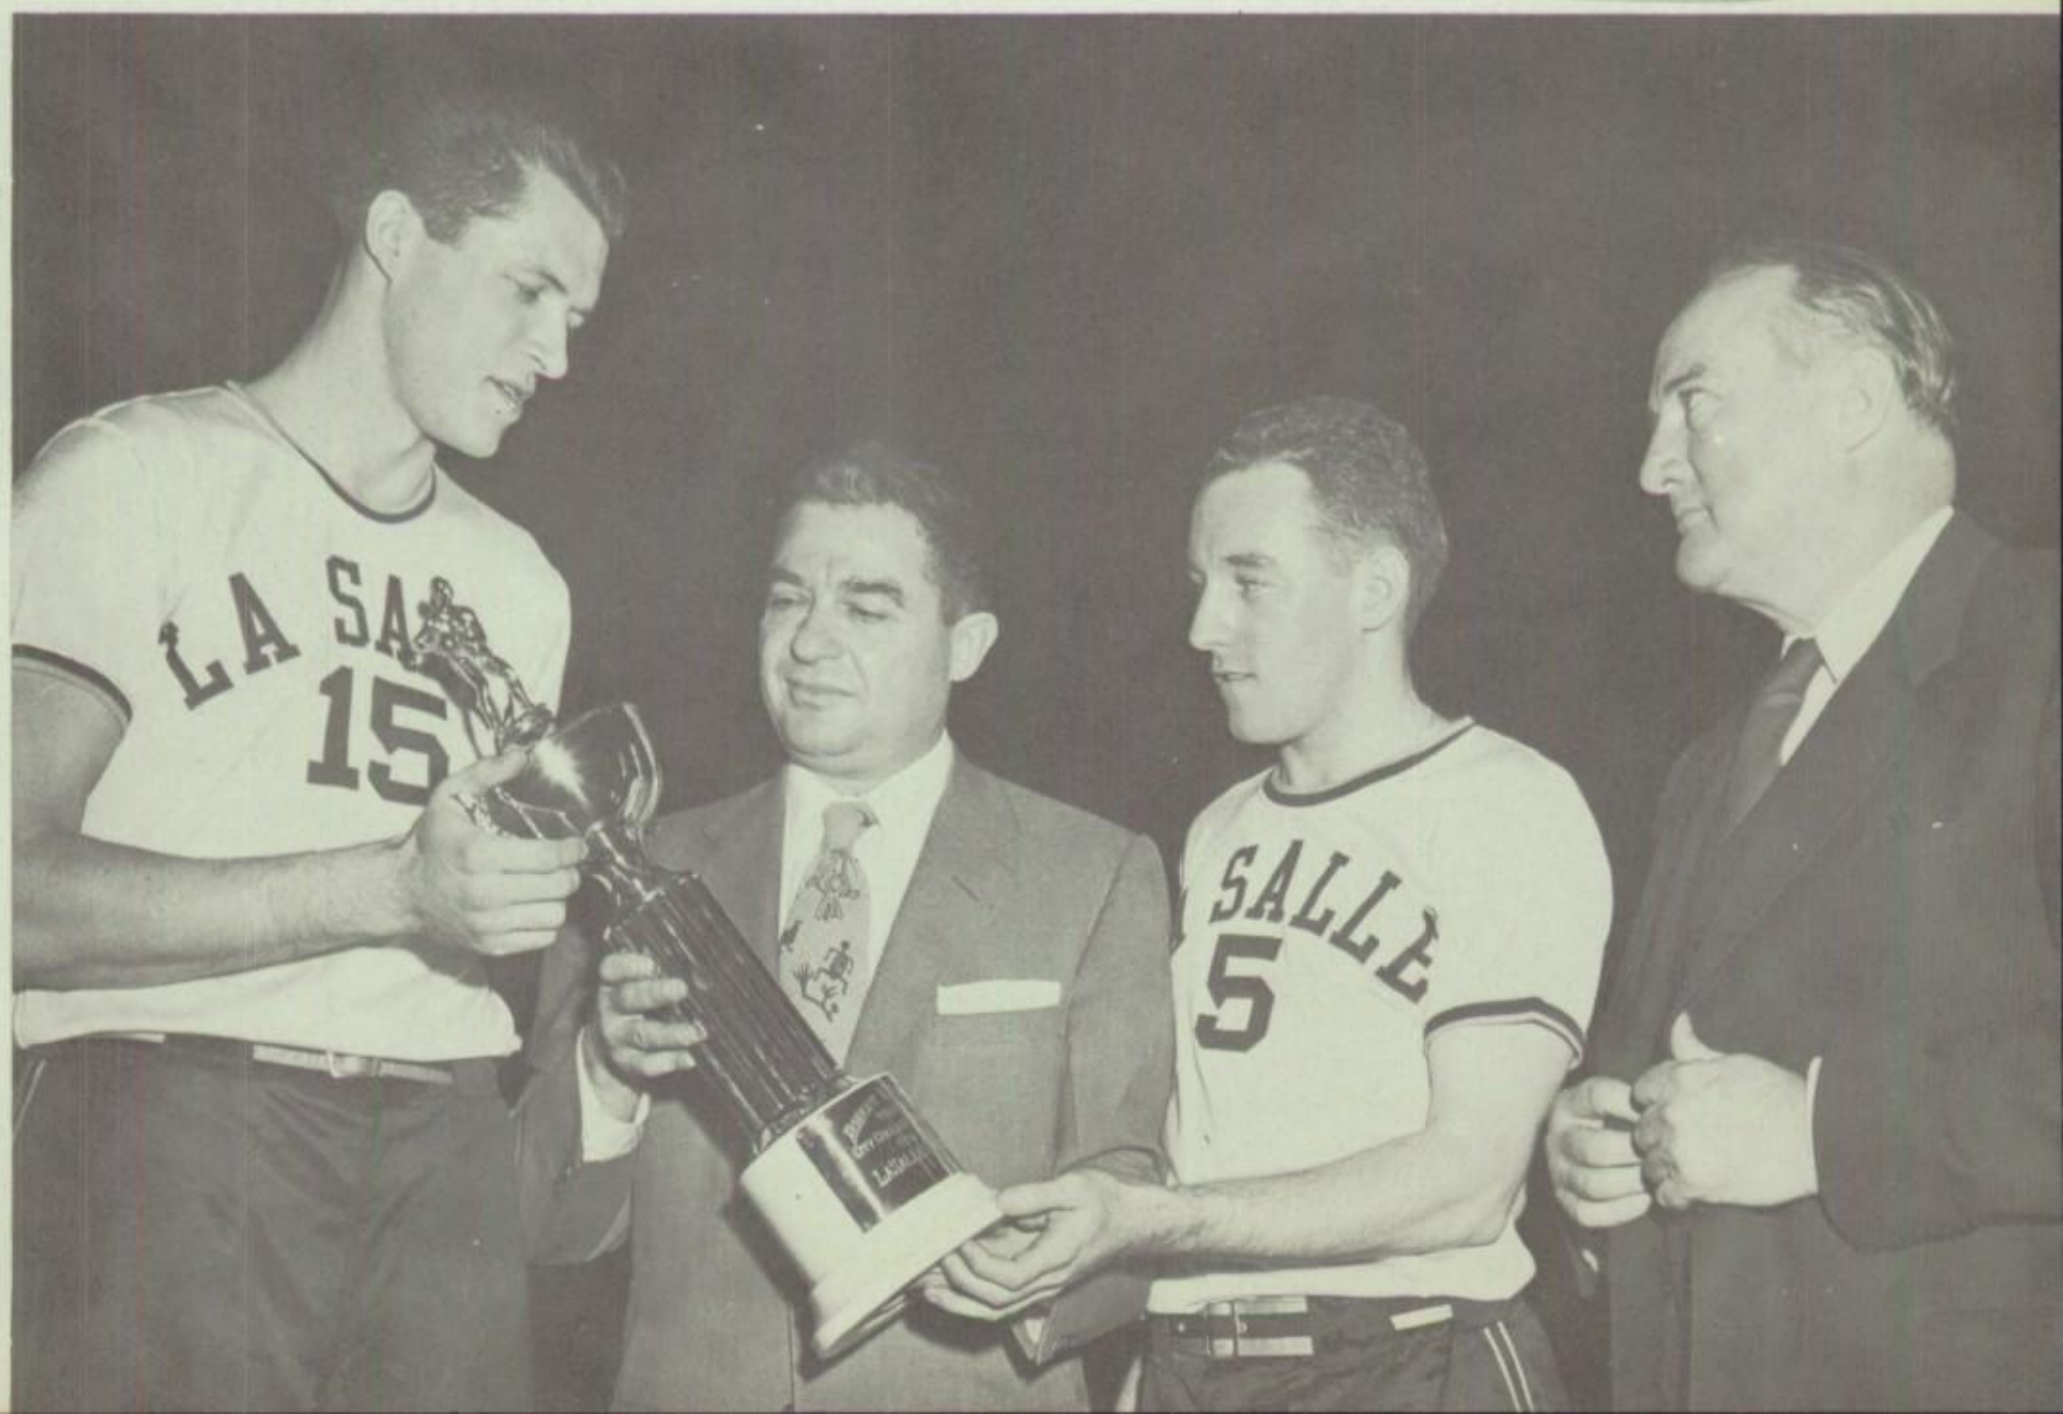

Captain Robert "Bobbin Bobby" Klostermeyer, a hard driving guard, is regarded as one of the most colorful players to ever take the court for Coach Hickey. Bobby, an even six footer, is the spark Everybody wants to get into the act. The Explorers and Hawks tangle for the ball in this "handy" play. St. Joe's (No. 6) Cy Crawford looks as if he's praying it in.

Consecutive City Title

The Explorers became the New York Yankees of Philadelphia's collegiate basketball teams, by winning the city championship for the fifth consecutive year. Here, co-captains Tom Gola and Frank O'Hara accept from Dave Zinkoff the second straight Robert V. Geasy Memorial Trophy awarded to La Salle College, as Coach Ken Loeffler looks on.

FRANK O'HARA

Much has been made of Frank's height. On the street, his five feet, nine inches are more than average; but on a basketball court which has become the home of the cloud skimmers, Frank sometimes looks like a visitor from Lilliput. His performance, however, goes to prove that height is certainly not the only criterion of a good basketball player. His consistently great performances on the court and his hustling team spirit have made "Wacky" a keystone of the Explorer's winning teams.

Frank makes his home in Olney. He was graduated from La Salle High School in 1950 where he and Tom Gola were team mates. Frank is the only senior member of the squad and here at La Salle as a pre-law major he has run up quite a record. He has been on the Dean's Honor List throughout his stay and his academic prowess will see him graduate "magna cum laude" this June.

With this graduating class, as with the whole school, "Wacky" graduates with the best wishes not only of this senior class, but with those of the whole school for his athletic and scholastic abilities and for what is probably most important his deep sincerity and rightful claim to the title "nice guy."

TOM GOLA

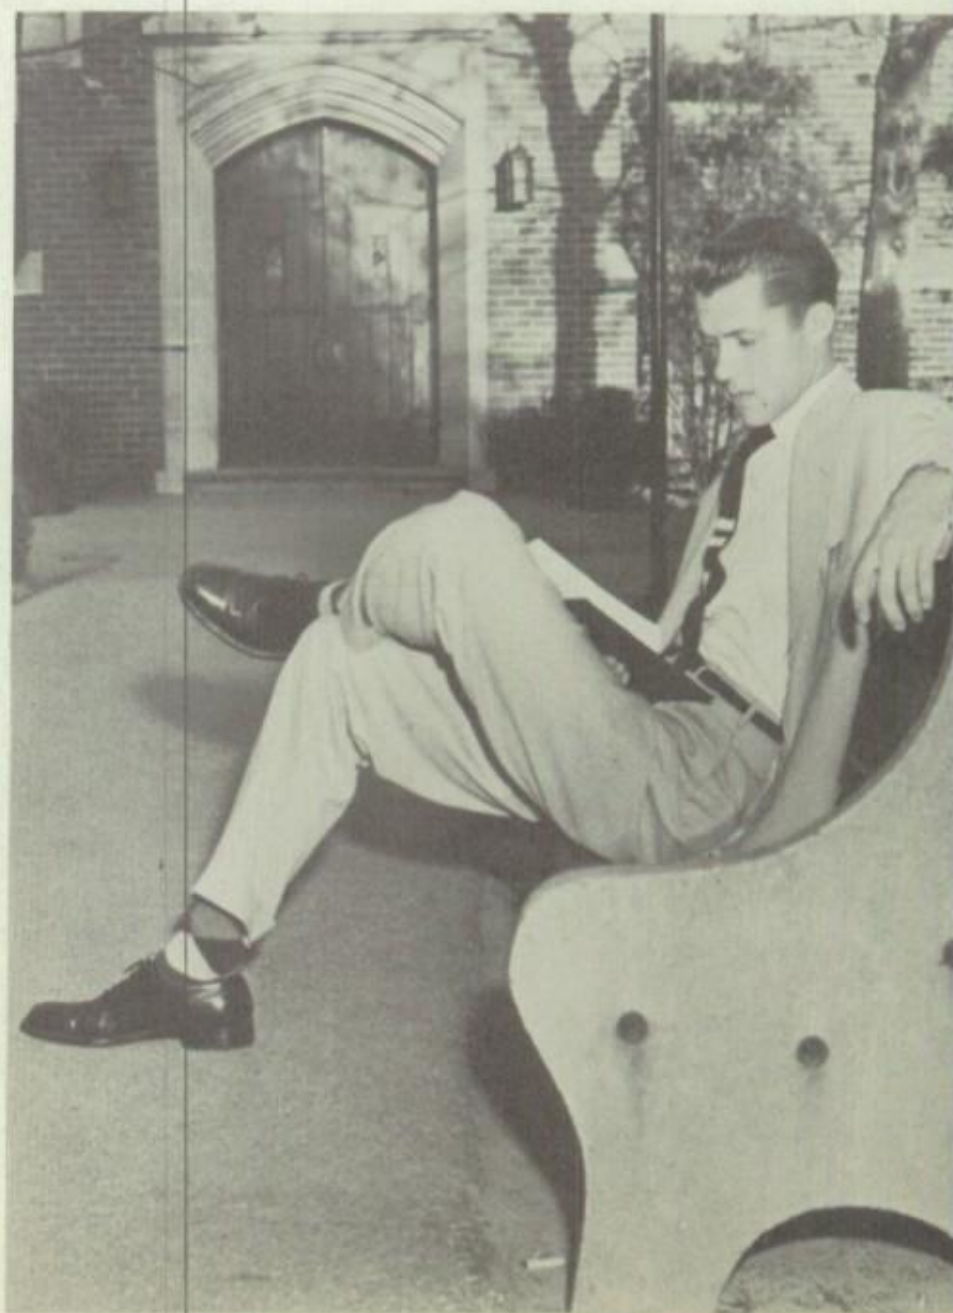

Junior Tom Gola has been honored with just about every award possible. All-American, most valuable player in the N.C.A.A., All-Eastern and All-Catholic are among the accolades that have been his. Tom has helped La Salle gain a national reputation sportswise.

The six feet, seven inch Olneyite came to La Salle College from the La Salle High School from which he was graduated after a stellar career with their basketball team in 1951.

Tom is a business major with a very respectable scholastic average and a modest personality that has made him liked by everyone on campus.

So, this is the Explorers salute to a fellow who has already been honored by "Look," "Collier's," United Press and Associated Press polls, and "Sports Magazine"—in addition to many others.

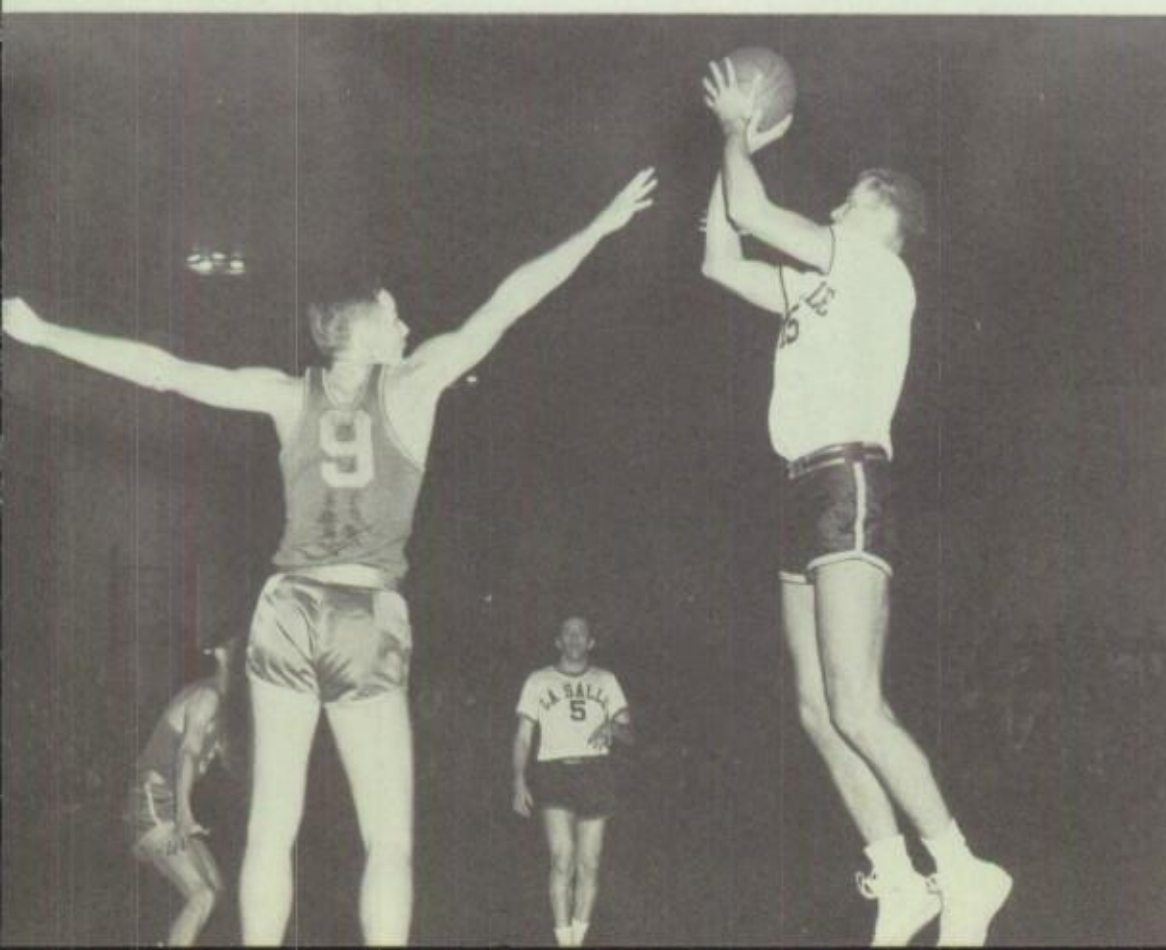

We can't think of any better tribute than that of Ken Loeffler's: "He is the greatest basketball player who has ever lived."

Our little man "Wacky" makes use of this opportune moment to lay in "Two" for La Salle.

A pass from Gola to O'Malley in the pivot results in a leap, a shot, and a basket.

Under the watchful eye of Frank O'Hara, La Salle's All-American, Tom Gola, jumps, shoots and makes it look easy.

KEN LOEFFLER

Ken Loeffler came to La Salle a year before the Class of 1954. To attempt to acclaim the brilliance of this mastermind of basketball would indeed be folly, but such an attempt must be made.

When the versatile Mr. Loeffler agreed to come to tutor the Explorers, he had behind him many years of sound coaching. He worked successfully with teams like Yale, among the colleges, and the St. Louis Bombers, among the pros.

The first thing Ken did at La Salle was to install a new system—one which stressed team balance. The success he has had is demonstrated in two ways—

(1) His flawless use of an All-American as a member of a team, a team composed not of one star, but of five capable ball players;

(2) The remarkable 119 and 25 record he has compiled in the past five years at La Salle.

Ken has led the Explorers to participate in four years of NIT play with a championship in that tourney in 1952. His crowning achievement was the winning of the NCAA championship in 1954, the first year La Salle had been invited to participate.

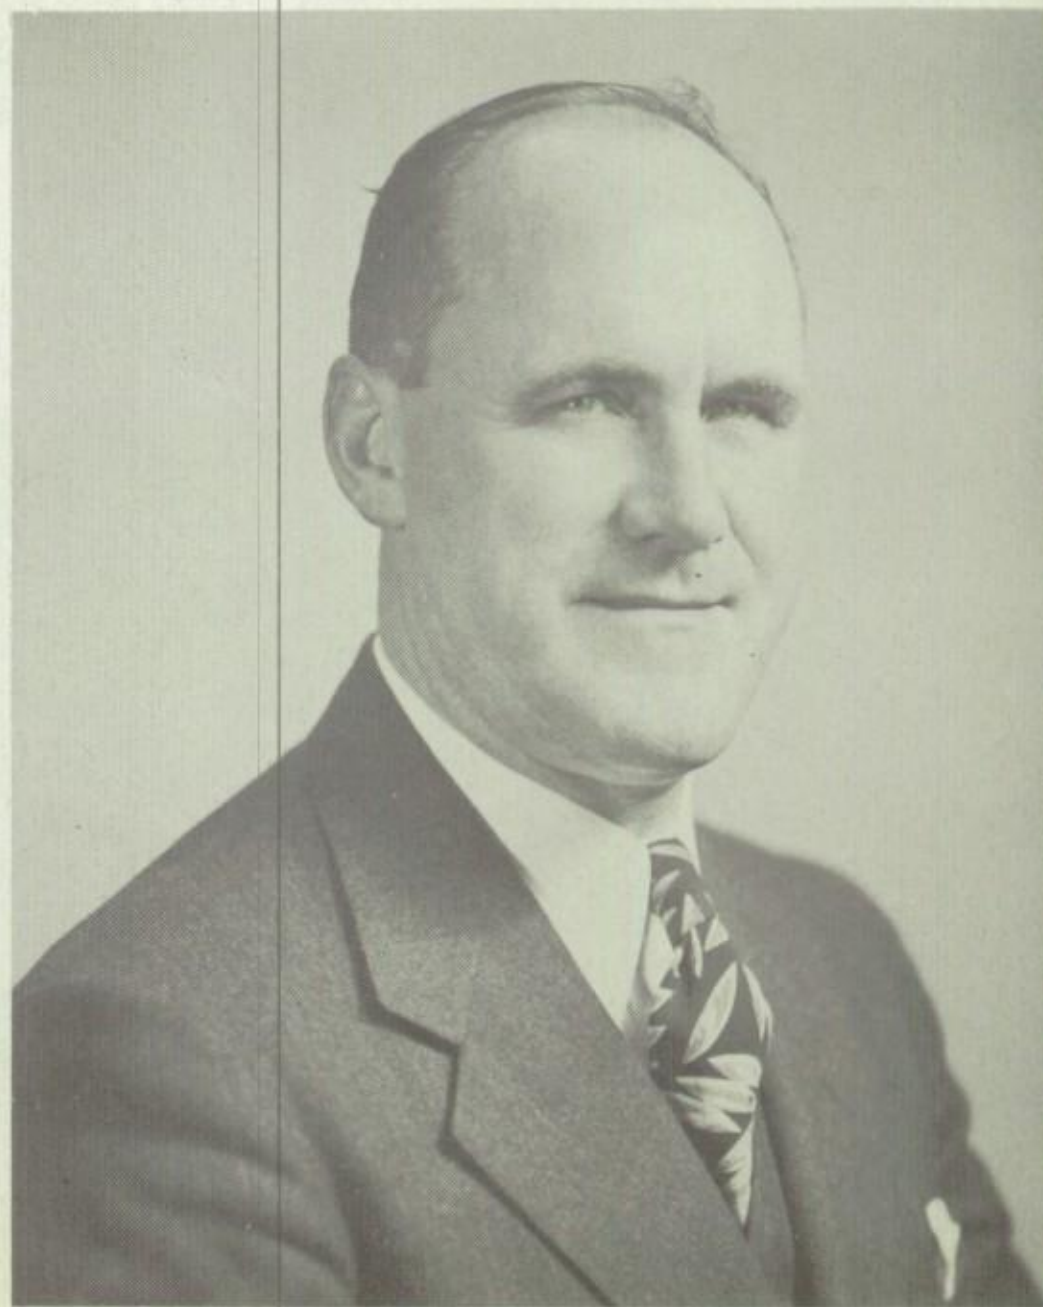

Looking at his record, it is easy to see that Ken Loeffler has established himself as one of the truly great coaches in the basketball game. We salute you, Ken—the Knute Rockne of Collegiate Basketball.

JAMES J. HENRY

Mr. James J. Henry, the Athletic Director at La Salle College for the past 20 years, has been the key factor for the school's emergence as a power in the realm of sports.

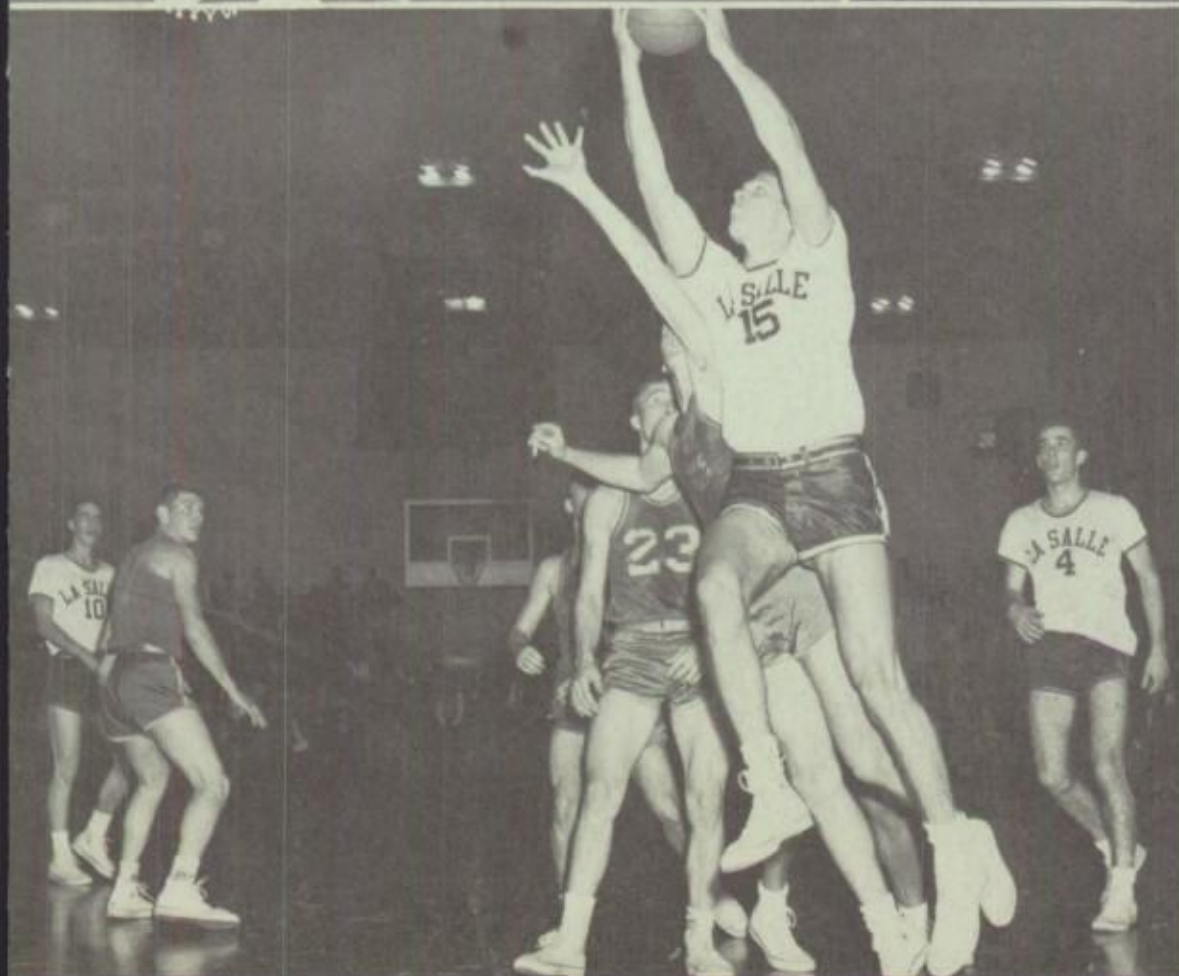

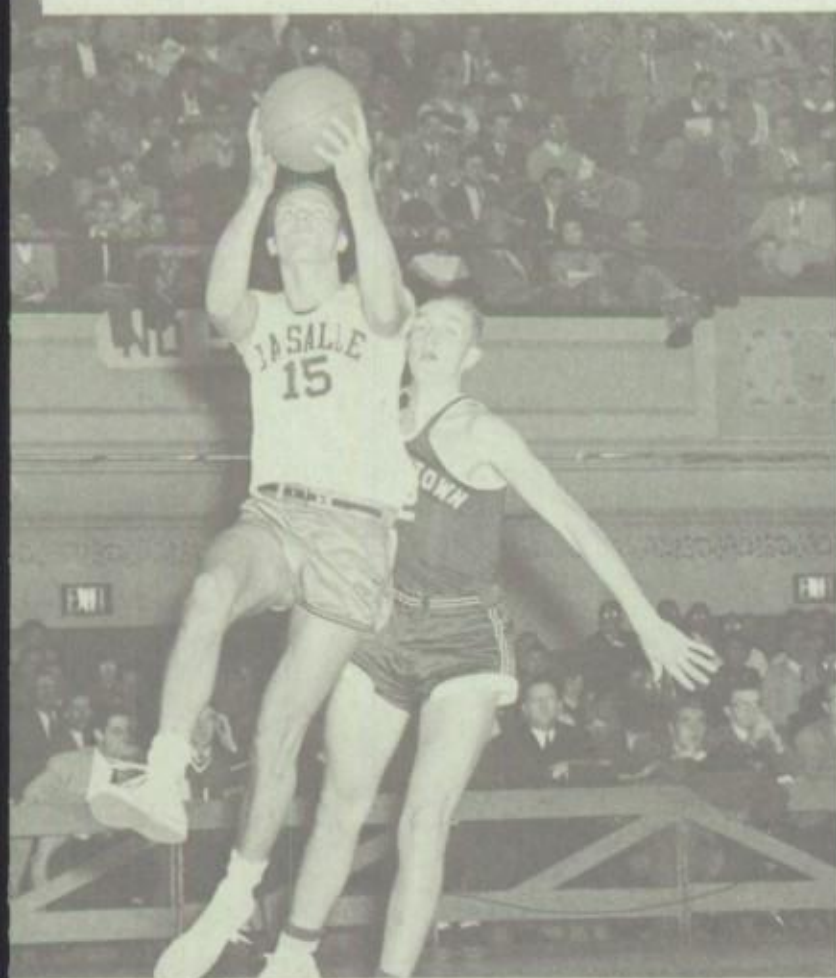

Upon his arrival at La Salle, the College was literally unknown in the field of sports. But, as the years progressed, so did the sports program, for under Mr. Henry's able leadership the school has made tremendous strides as a winner in many of the collegiate circles. Representatives from La Salle in sports like basketball, swimming, track, and crew rose to the very pinnacle of success, and in this rise many titles were captured both on the local and national levels. Such a record is the result of Mr. Henry's policies which are wisely governed by his sound judgment.

Mr. Henry, in the often thankless position of Director of Athletics, well deserves the acclaim. Congratulations for a job well done.

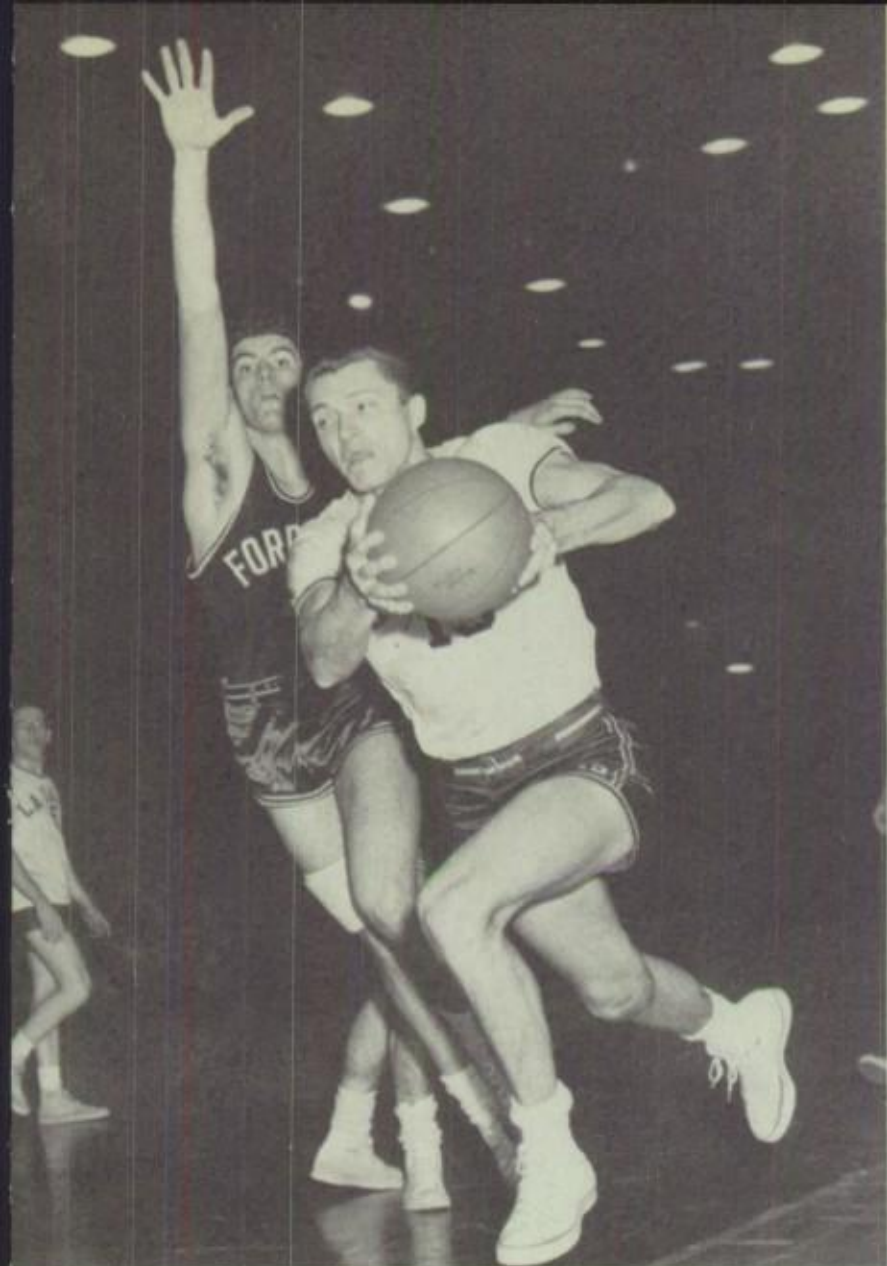

The results of their efforts

LaSalle Accepts First NCA Bid;

Frank O'Hara looks quizzical as teammate Tom Gola drives in for a lay-up in front of Ed Conlin of the Fordham team.

The first La Salle victory on its quest for the N.C.A.A. title was perhaps the most exciting. With only four seconds of play left in the last quarter of the Fordham game and with a score of 68 to 66, La Salle came up with some expert and fast team work that culminated in Fran O'Malley's tying the score. In the overtime play La Salle moved ahead to emerge from this first test with a score of 76 to 74.

Bob Maples is running into some trouble from Fordham's Ed Conlin and Paul Viggiano. The boys from Olney Heights gave the fans something to cheer about.

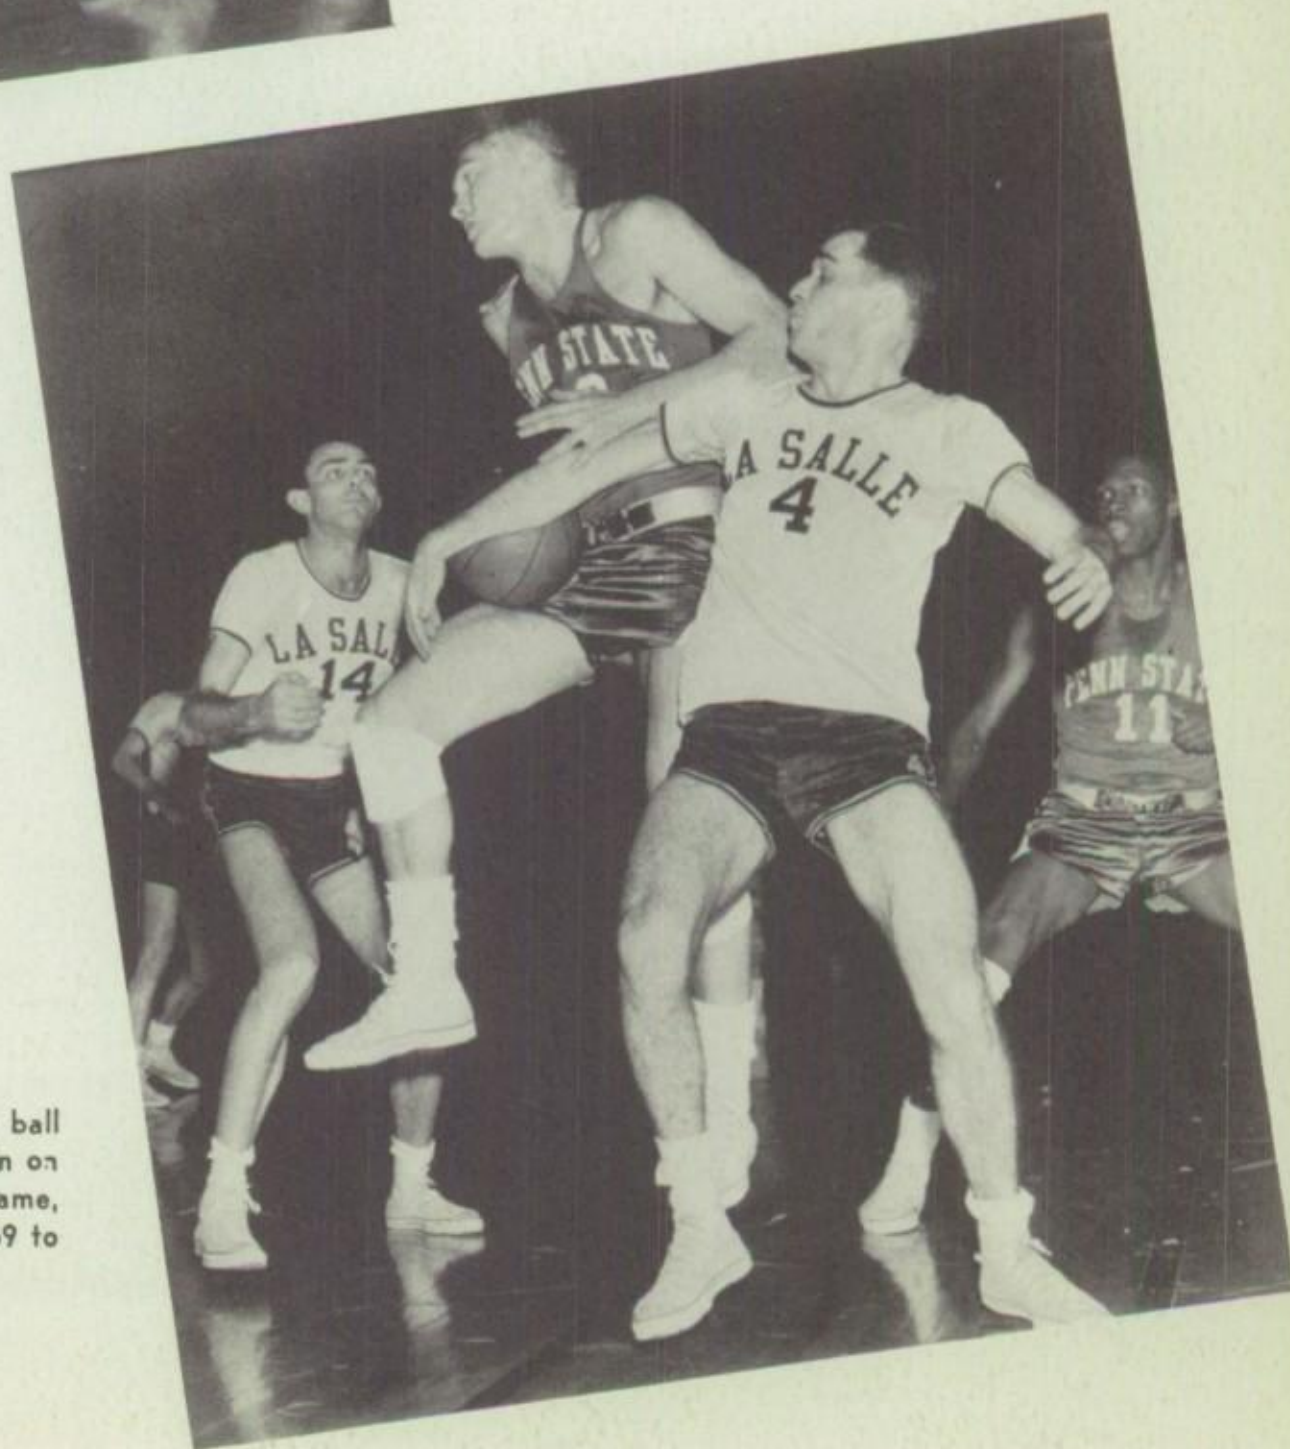

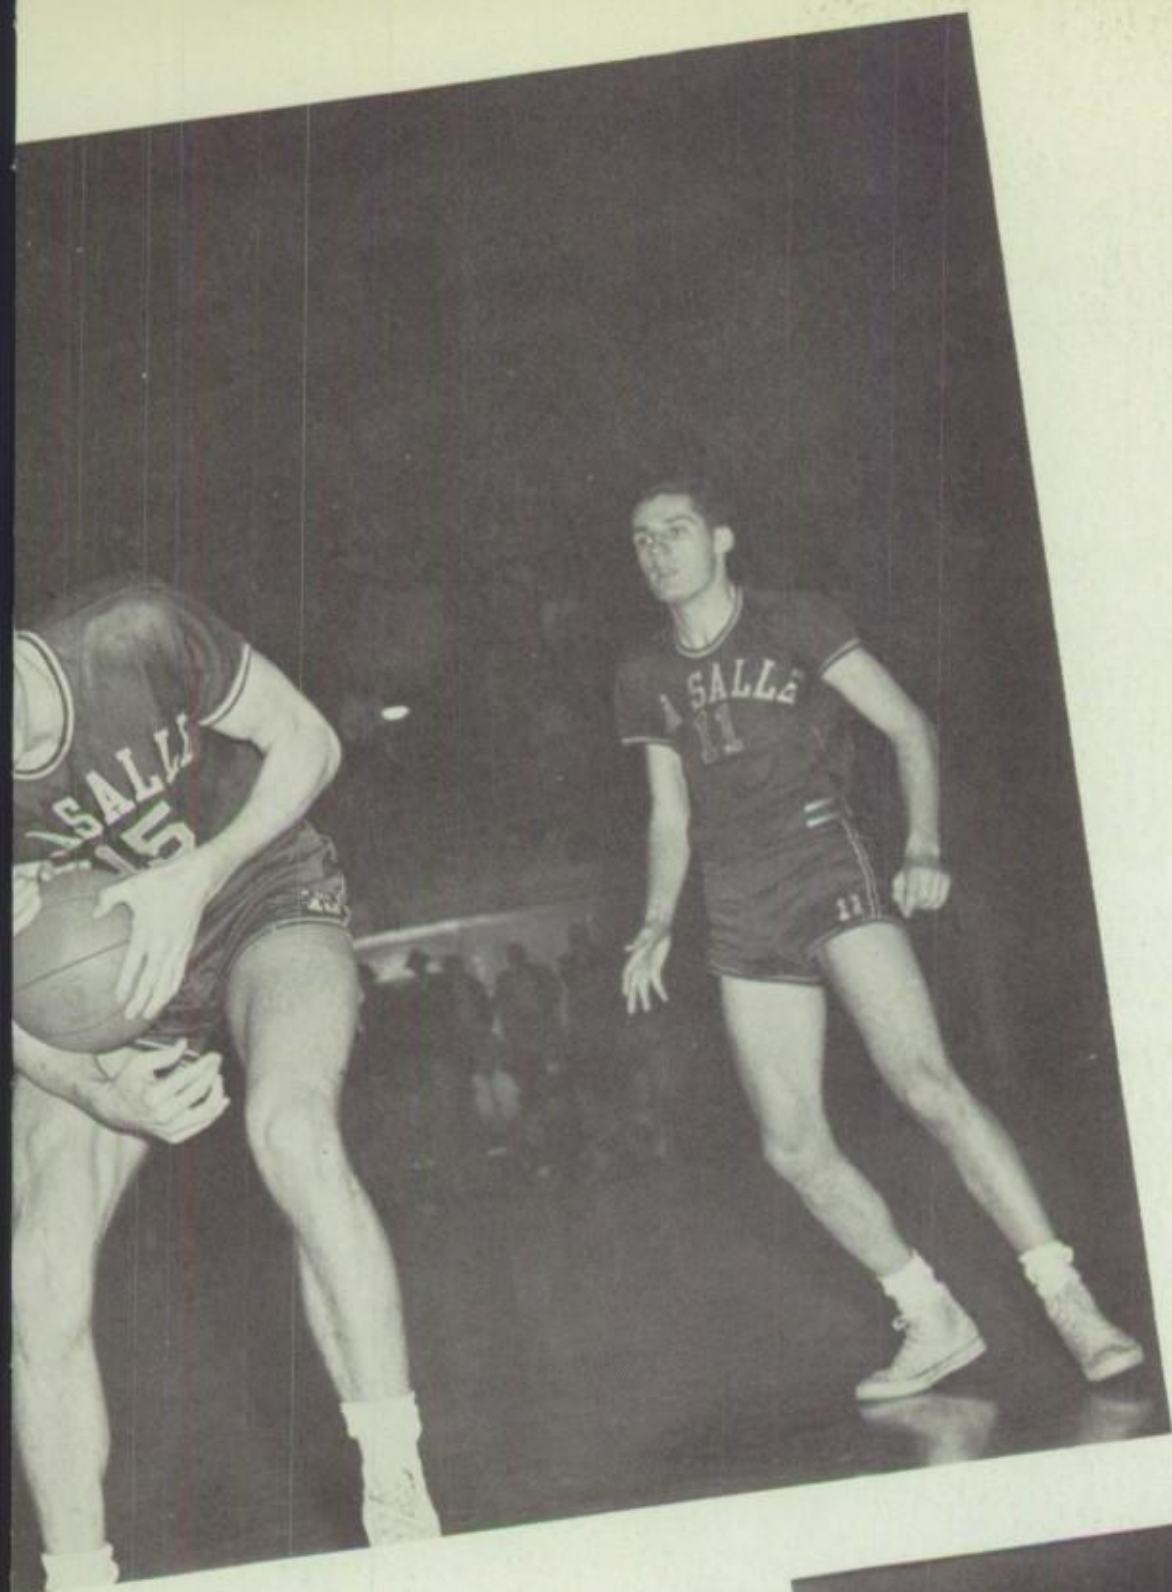

TERRIFIC

The night after the N.C.S. victory, the palestra saw La Salle score a 66-48 victory over Navy in a strong second half scoring spree that was marked by the high scoring feats of Gola, Singley, Maples and Company. Above, Navy's Don Lange and Larry Wigley dispute Mr. Gola's possession of the ball.

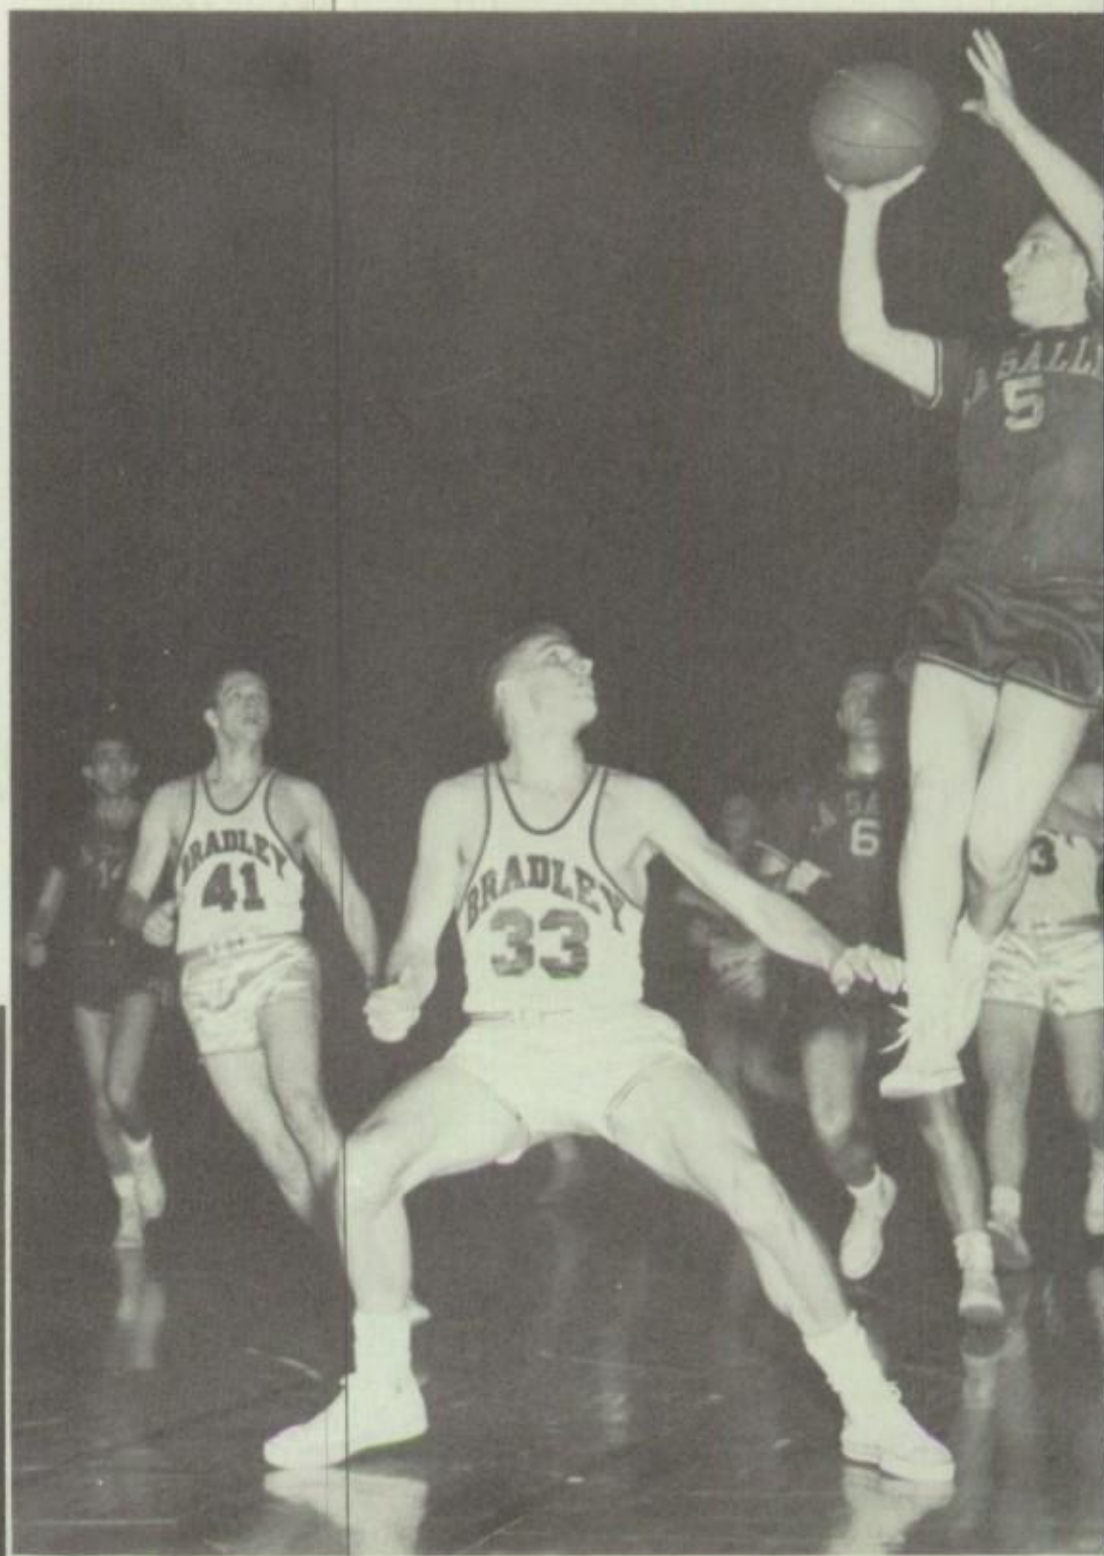

The next step on La Salle's victory march was an 88-81 victory over North Carolina State. Here Frank O'Maley and North Carolina State's Ronnie Shavlik exhibit some gymnastic skills as Frank stretches with that ball.

Frank O'Malley puts a backhand hold on the ball as Bob Rohland of Penn State (12) comes down on it in rebound action. In the next to the last game, La Salle rolled over Penn State by a score of 69 to 54. (A. P. photo.)

THE NATION'S CHAMPIONS

Skybound Frank O'Hara leaps far above Bradley's Bob Carney and keeps his judging eye on the basket in the victorious Kansas City game to climax La Salle's N.C.A.A. hopes. The game, a thriller, had rooters apprehensive at half time when the score read 43 to 42 in Bradley's favor. A second half surge and a change of strategy brought La Salle a rousing 92-76 victory and the N.C.A.A. championship in their first year of competition.

A momentary setback for La Salle sees Bradley's John Kent bat the ball from Charley Singley's hand. The victory in this tournament raised La Salle's standing considerably in all-nation-wide collegiate polls.

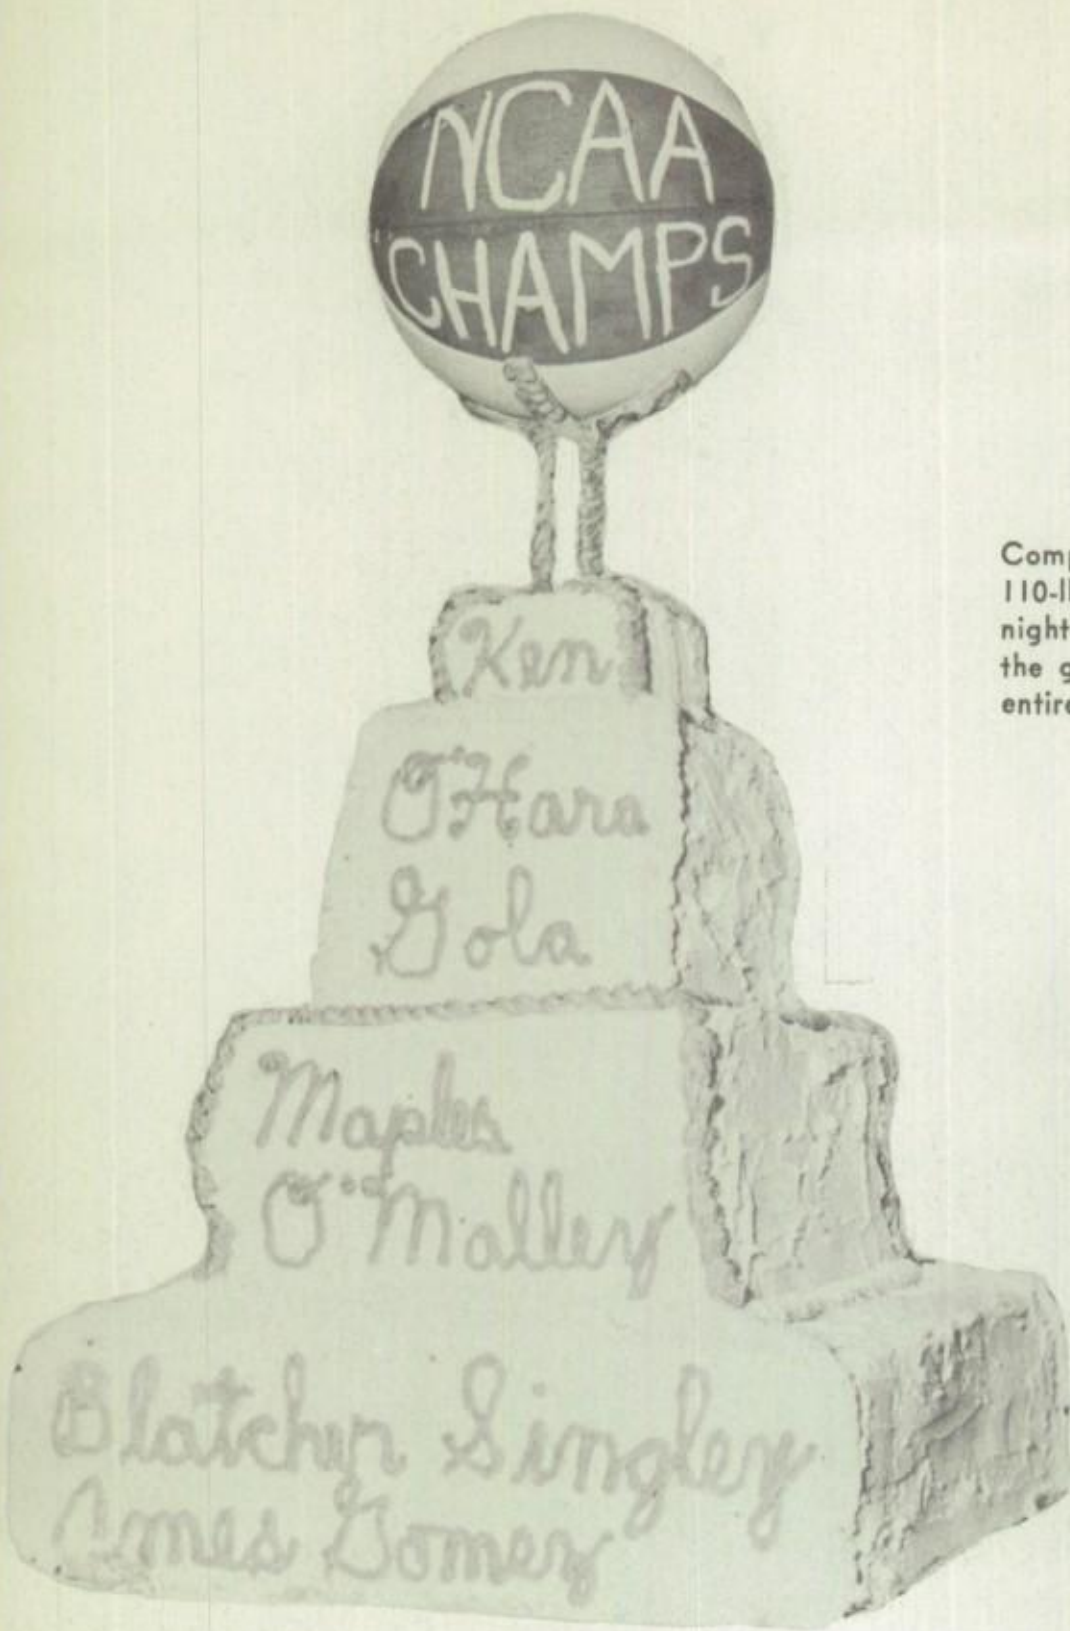

A crowd of 10,000 fans greeted the victors on the memorable night of March 21, 1954, at Southwest airport. The enthusiasm of the fans pictured here was indicative of the feelings of all Philadelphians.

Airport congratulations are extended to the conquering Explorers by City Council President, James Finneqan on behalf of Mayor Clark and the City of Philadelphia. A motorcade escorted the team back to the college.

Smiles, smiles and more smiles, that seems to be the order of the day, as Tom Gola grips the championship ball, and Frank O'Hara the championship cup.

Competing with the team for attention was this mammoth 110-lb. cake which dominated the cafeteria at the Sunday night welcome home treat supplied to the students through the generosity of Walt Krause and Bill Hall who footed the entire bill.

An old site with a new face, the campus bookstore becomes the showcase of La Salle's recently acquired trophies.

Happy over their well earned tournament victory and a season's record that outshone pre-season predictions, La Salle's Explorers, the N.C.A.A. Champs of the year give a cheer for their success.

Crew Seeks Twelfth Straight Victory Friday; LeHane Captain

With two more workouts left before their initial race of the season, La Salle's Varsity eight is in high spirits and sound mind.

American International College meets the Dad Vail Champs on Friday afternoon at 3:00 P. M. AIC will be racing against the champs for the third straight year and a friendly observer would readily admit they are pretty consistent—they have lost the last three years in a row.

The Explorers will go into this meet with eleven straight victories to their credit. Last season's Varsity was undefeated as they scored triumphs over such crews as Rutgers University, Rollins, AIC, Amherst, Florida Southern, Brown, Dartmouth and Marietta of Ohio.

Bleacher Stroke

La Salle's eight will be made up of Dick Walsh, Coxswain, Jack Bleacher, stroke, Lou LeHane at seven, Jules Budny in the number 6 slot, Jack Bloxson, 5, George Haggerty, 4, Tom Noone at 3, Buck Rodgers at 2, and Vince Della Valle in the bow seat.

Time Trials Taken

The last several workouts, the crew has performed at their top physical peak. Time trials have been taken to determine just how well the eight will hold up under actual racing conditions. It is the belief of this observer that they will be in there stroking with all they have—the rest is up to the big boss.

LeHane Captain

At a meeting of the crew last week, Lou LeHane, only senior member of the crew, was elected captain of the Blue and Gold forces for this year. LeHane a slow starter in last year's "pickle boat" has shown coach Tom Curran much promise of developing into a top notch 7 man.

This year's crew team is the heir to a record of eleven straight victories and to recognition as just about the best crew squad of any small college.

Last year's team retired the Dad Vail Trophy in their fourth year of intercollegiate competition, and this year's contingent seems to be equally a team to watch.

The versatility of basketball star Bob Ptak is demonstrated as he takes the high-jump in a meet with Temple at the home stadium.

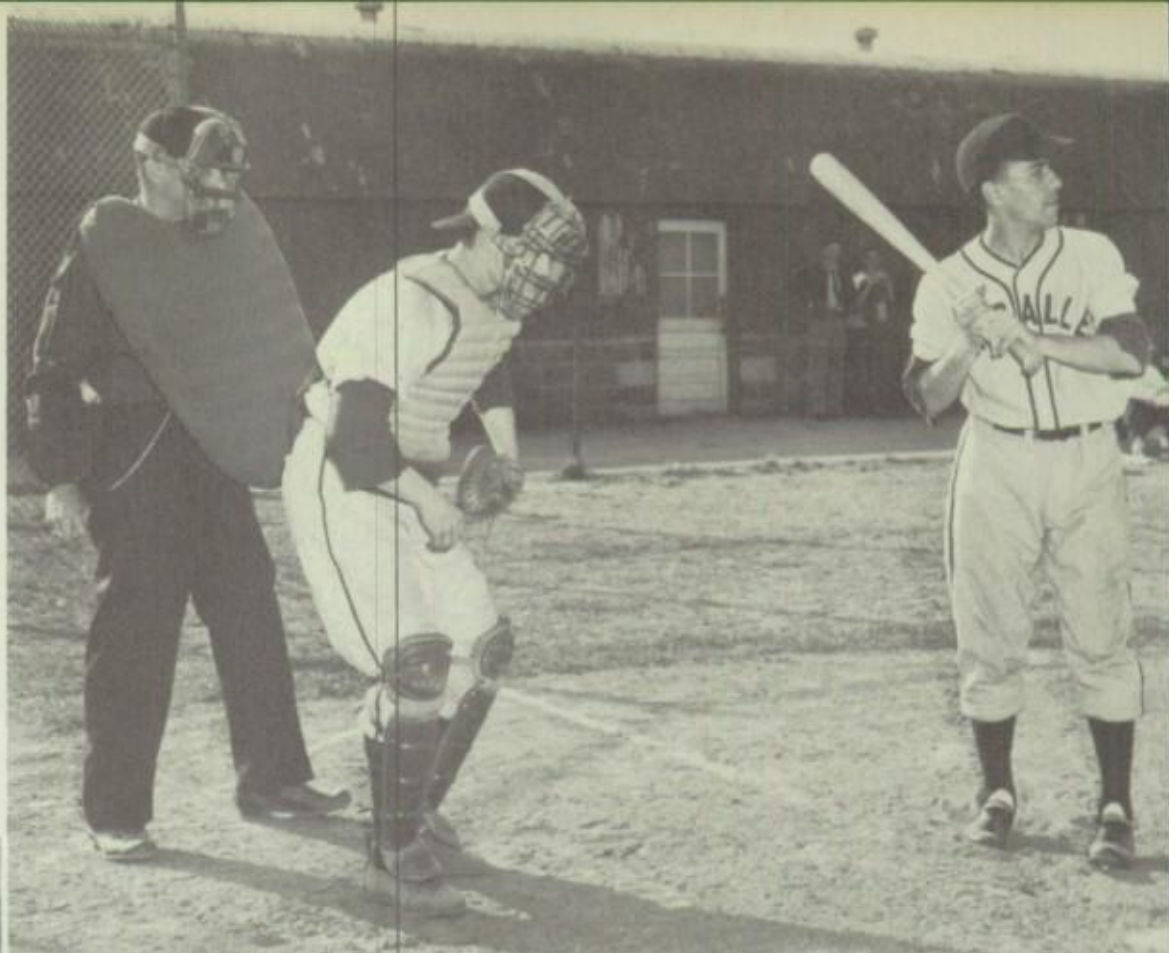

Inclement weather is no deterrent to these track contestants. Here, Tom McGowan tosses the shotput for another McCarthy Stadium record.

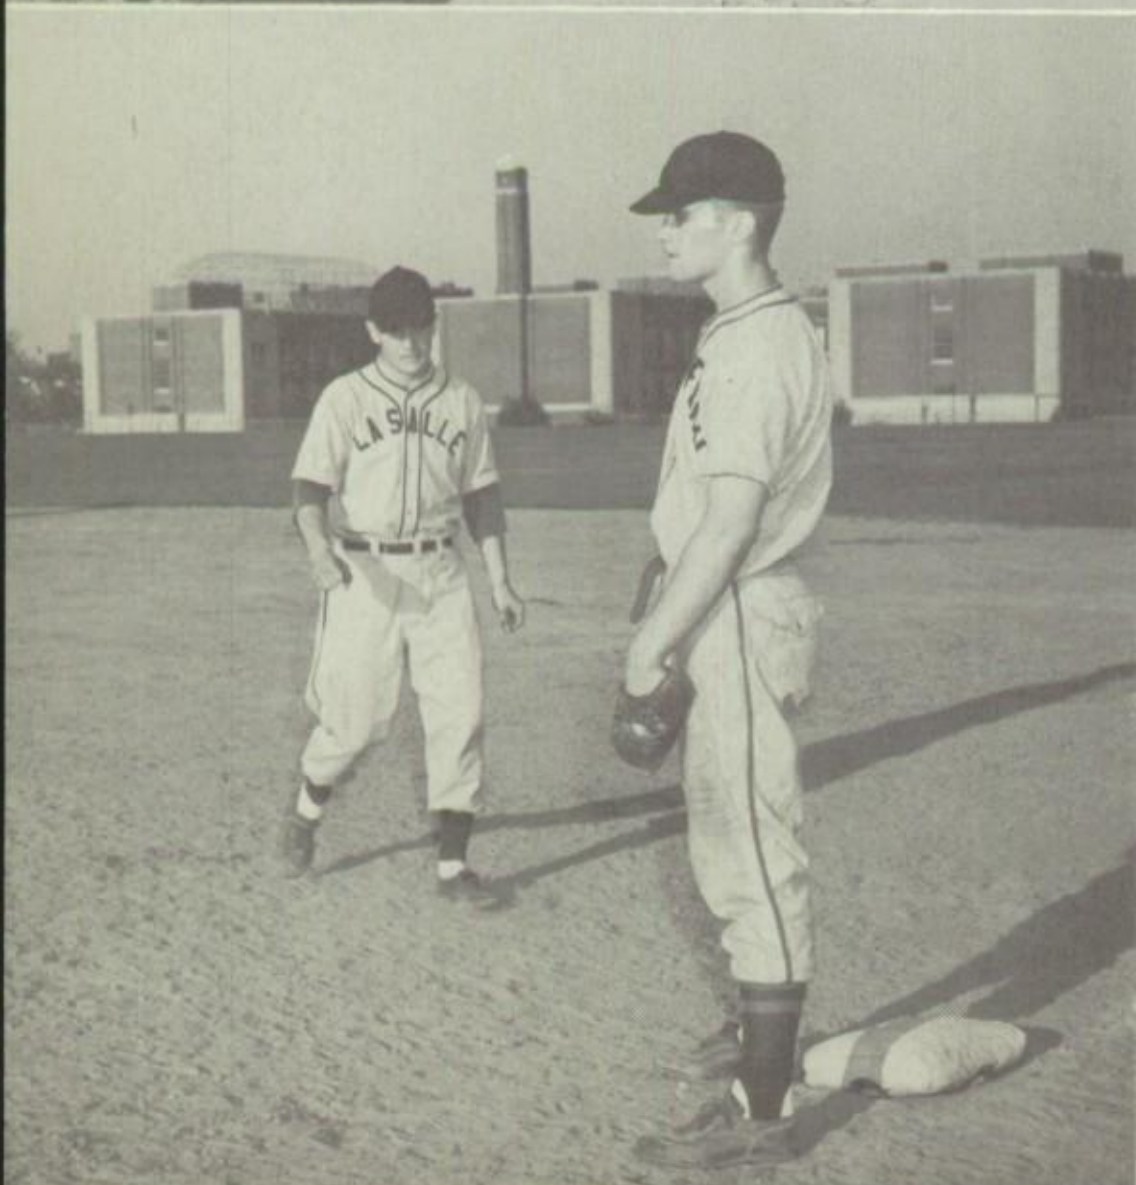

Paul Mita takes the broad jump in a Drexel meet. The La Salle team which was the M.A.C. champs for the past two years in a row has repeated the selfsame feat this year.

Senior Gerald Guarini waits for an opportunity to start some scoring in the early innings of a La Salle-Drexel game.

Joe Ridgik's visit to second base was cut short by the ball going foul in the Haverford game won by La Salle.

Between inning conference seems to find the La Salle team happy about the whole situation. Seniors Ridgik and Loeber talk things over with guest manager Colonel Ucharek and Coach Frank Hoerst.

A stalwart of La Salle's squad, Bill DePace, whose three years of skillful play will be missed badly next year, takes a soutpaw stance in the early innings of the Haverford game.

Seniors Deck, Blaczyk and McCafferty take varied stances as they await the start of play on the first tee. FORE.

Dick Blaczyk probably has some interesting thoughts as he tries to blast himself as well as his ball from the sand trap.

Courtney's fiends of the fairway are La Salle's outlet for those who enjoy fresh air and long hikes. The golf squad has had a successful season as its veterans and novices have both come through with stellar performances.

Sparked by seniors such as Les Seagraves, Leon Trojon, and Marv Kallish, the team has been aided by the "professional" coaching of Government Prof. Bob Courtney.

The Explorer team looks pretty chipper after their first round of play. Could be Joe McCafferty has controlled that slice and has turned in a good score.

A WORD OF THANKS

The election of officers and the ensuing selection of a Class Moderator were the first formal steps toward the organization of the Class of 1954. However, the spadework in planning for organization was accomplished by a small, disinterested group upon whom the mantle of Senior was soon to fall. This preliminary planning obviated confusion and made our path smooth.

The paramount item on the agenda of our first meeting as Seniors, held in early October, 1953, was the election of officers and, when the results of this historic caucus were tallied, it was gratifying to learn that two of the foresighted planners had been elevated to class officers: Raymond Vasoli was chosen as President and Joseph Keown as Secretary. A third, Joseph Matthews, was elected President of the Student Congress, a most appropriate selection.

To our Class Officers, one and all, we say: "Thanks! for a job well done. We appreciate what you have done for us. You earned our undivided loyalty."

Congress Members

If you ask any college graduate what one incident stands out most in his college career, oftentimes he will mention some special event which did not take place in the classroom and which was not even part of his curriculum. Perhaps he may mention a dance that he attended, or a committee on which he served, or some other social activity; some experience that he shared with his classmates and now looks back upon it as something he will always remember.

Now these social activities connected with a college education just don't happen by chance. They are part of a carefully arranged and executed plan usually conducted by some governing body. Here at La Salle the governing body of the Evening Division is the Student Congress, a group of men who give freely and unselfishly of their time and ideas to promote the social welfare of the student body. It all started in the fall term of 1949, and through its committee system the Congress has grown and compiled an enviable record of progress and success that any student governing organization would be proud to claim. The present administration began its activities in the summer of 1953 by laying the ground work for the activities of the school year. The spring dance marks the climax of all the efforts put forth by this group. Now the students of the Evening Division can look to the undergraduates to continue with this fine record of achievement. Only time and effort will confirm the fact that the spirit of the Evening Division student is one of sacrifice, determination, and progress.

THE MALVERN RETREAT

A record turnout of 40 students of the Evening Division joined the January 29 weekend group at St. Joseph's-in-the-Hills to make their third annual retreat. James Sammon '53, served as captain of the entire retreat, a very distinguished position which he has held for the past three years. Edward Dunphy '54, and Charles Boyce '56, served as associate captains.

During the Marian Year the Evening Division Adoration Society has stepped up its activities schedule and increased its membership through the efforts of Charles Boyce, Pres.; Robert Kelly, Vice-Pres.; Richard Prendergast, Sec.; and William Lenihan, Jr., Treas. The society sponsored, as the highlight of the fall semester, the Third Annual Retreat to Malvern, which was one of the most successful ever held. Following this the members put their concentrated efforts behind the promoting of the Third Annual Communion Breakfast, and the showing of several films to the student body. The society has also made a successful effort to increase the number of students who supported the Marian Year Devotions held each Thursday before class in the College Chapel. These Devotions were led by the Chaplain, Fr. Mark Heath, O.P., and consisted of The Rosary and Benediction.

THIRD ANNUAL COMMUNION BREAKFAST

Comments of the over 300 guests, faculty members, students, and friends reflected the success of the Evening Division's Third Annual Communion breakfast.

Following Mass, which was celebrated by the Rev. Mark Heath, O.P., College Chaplain, in the auditorium, a very tasty breakfast was served, by Degenhardt of Philadelphia, in the Field House. Immediately afterwards, everyone sat back, relaxed, and listened to a very fine program of speakers, moderated by the genial and efficient toastmaster, Mr. Lawrence G. Bowman, of the English Department.

Heading the list of distinguished guests was the Right Reverend Monsignor Francis J. Furey, Rector of St. Charles Borromeo Seminary, who gave a very inspiring talk on the Immaculate Conception and the purpose of the Marian Year. Other notables present were Brother E. Stanislaus, President of the College; Brother G. Paul, Dean of the Evening Division; Brother G. Robert, first Christian Brother to teach in the Evening Program; Brother E. James, Director of the La Salle Community; Brother F. Christopher, Dean of the College; Dr. Joseph Sprissler, former Director of the Evening Division; and Mr. James Sammon, C. A. Captain of the La Salle Malvern Retreat, along with several others. Brother Stanislaus and Brother Paul also gave interesting talks.

ACCOUNTING ASSOCIATION

Four years ago this association was organized by a group of students to promote and foster better relations among the accounting students of the school. Since that time its rapid rise as one of the most active groups in extra-curricular activities has been watched and lauded by all.

Its varied program includes banquets, forums and regular meetings at which persons from all fields of accounting appear. There have been speakers representing the Government, C. P. A. offices, special accounting schools and different phases of industry.

The departing seniors will long remember the good times and valuable information gained through their association with the Accounting Association.

EVENING COLLEGIAN DIVISION

The 1953-54 academic year was the third year of publication for the Evening Division Collegian. The first issue of the Evening page was seen in October, 1951, and since that time the news of the Evening Division has been incorporated in all the issues of the College newspaper. Raymond Vasoli, a member of the class of fifty-four, was the founding father of the Evening page. Since his retirement from the Editorship, two men have served as the leader of the paper—Edward Gibbons '53 and this year's editor, Frank Kerr '54. The Evening Collegian has portrayed the social and scholastic happenings of the academic year to the student body as accurately and vividly as possible. Their aim has always been to serve the student body in the true tradition of newspapermen, and three years of loyal service has proven their devotion to their goal.

The French Club of the Evening Division is now in its third year of campus activity. To date, it has been one of the most active of the evening organizations.

Under the inspiring leadership of its founder and moderator, Dr. John A. Guischard, and its president, Richard J. Prendergast, the school year 1953-54 saw the club hold its most successful affair, the annual Social Night which was held in October.

Cultural events took up the rest of the year's activities, and these included trips to various points of French interest in and around Philadelphia, French films, and the annual French play, this year's presentation being "La Farce de Patelin."

In February of this year, new officers were elected for the school year 1954-55. These are: William F. Boyle, President; James J. Sproul, Vice-President; Richard J. Prendergast, Secretary; and Francis X. Nolan, Treasurer. Under its new leadership, the club hopes to have another successful calendar of events.

MARKETING ASSOCIATION

Since its inception in 1952 as the seventy-seventh student chapter of the American Marketing Association this group has risen until it has taken its place among the leaders in the field of extra-curricular activities. The club is composed of men who have expressed a desire to keep in close contact with the rapidly progressing developments in the field of Marketing. The club was headed by Walton Bolger, President; John Carberry, Vice-President; Art Le Roy, Secretary; Charles Wirth, Treasurer; with Mr. Bannon, Instructor in Marketing, serving as Moderator. The activities schedule was made up of regular meetings and dinner meetings at which prominent speakers from the various fields of Industry passed on current information and Marketing trends to the group. There were also field trips to different business organizations to give the members an insight into the actual workings of everyday business.

Social activities in the form of dances rounded out the schedule and provided enjoyable get-togethers for the members and their dates. The success of the club in the past term has been shown by the fact that its membership has increased to an all time high and the prospects for the future look even brighter for La Salle's Marketeers.

SOCIETY FOR ADVANCEMENT OF MANAGEMENT

The 1953-54 scholastic year saw the La Salle College Chapter of the Society for Advancement of Management (SAM) embark on an ambitious schedule of activities. The success of this program was demonstrated by the recognition received. Our La Salle group won the annual Student Chapter Award presented by the Philadelphia Senior Chapter to the local student chapter showing the most outstanding achievement during the school year 1953-54. The SAM is the recognized national professional society of management people in industry, commerce, government, and education. Student chapters are organized in leading colleges and universities offering major courses in management. The discussions and general programs of the chapters are directed toward encouraging and stimulating interest and understanding in scientific principles of management.

In furtherance of this purpose, La Salle College was host to the Sixth Annual Student Conference sponsored by the Philadelphia Area Student Chapters in March, 1954. The remainder of the year's activities consisted of forums, plant tours, and presentations by recognized speakers on various aspects of management.

A HISTORY OF THE 1954 GRADUATING CLASS

The history of the 4th Evening Class to graduate from La Salle College is an interesting one to look upon in brief retrospect.

During the month of February, 1949, 135 men matriculated, the largest mid-year enrollment since evening classes had begun. In September, 1949, the fall registration was 205, making a total year's enrollment of 340. Due to the normal amount of drop-outs, the present total of 104 graduates was reached.

The first two years were comparatively uneventful with respect to extra-curricular activities. There was a general feeling prevalent that one had to learn to study all over again. An air of reluctance permeated the freshmen and sophomore groups preventing them from doing anything that did not pertain to scholastic work.

The loosening-up period and eventual swing into college life took place from September, 1951, to March, 1952, when La Salle College's great quintet, led by All-American Tom Gola, rose to national prominence by winning the coveted National Invitation Tournament. "Team support" was the much used expression of the day; and school studies were temporarily cast into a secondary role. The tournament in March, 1952, saw the Evening School turn out in force for several trips to New York's Madison Square Garden. This first taste of basking in the glory of one's institution was pleasant.

Many activities were begun or perpetuated by the 1954 graduating class:

1. Some of its members began what is known today as the Evening Division Section of the La Salle Collegian. They organized a staff of their own and worked independently, but in co-operation with the day school staff.

2. The First Annual Communion Breakfast was staged on April 6, 1952, by our own class members to honor the Christian Brothers. It was a rousing success with 318 turning out for the affair.

3. Although Senior Class Officers were elected for the first time in the 1953 class, it was once again 1954 grads-to-be who introduced the idea and did much of the necessary backstage work to turn the idea into a reality.

Several of our fellow classmates raised the prestige of the 1954 class by becoming chairmen of various activities or serving on the many committees throughout the campus. Others took an active part in the Student Congress of the Evening Division, building up and making this group one of the most highly respected in the college. In a word, our members have conducted themselves admirably.

Then, in our senior year, we saw the many senior functions run smoothly. The Senior Stag brought everyone closer together. Our Dinner-Dance at the Ross House was acclaimed by many for its precisely organized program. The beautiful gift for the library presented to the Brothers is a tradition-making gesture for other classes to follow. And who can deny the Yearbook you are holding from being recognized as an outstanding piece of work—congruity at a height. Our class has much to be proud of.

But, let us not think that our entire history is behind us. Many of us has done his little bit, or more, in building a better reputation for La Salle College. However, even though we conduct ourselves as true gentlemen and persons of strong character to extend this institution's reputation for outstanding all-around education, we still have another chapter of our history to write in the future. La Salle College has given us an open door to bigger things. We must never forget it. It is our job to continue with the Alumni to repay, in some measure, what the Christian Brothers have so unselfishly given us. Your officers have the firm conviction that this thought will always live with the 1954 graduating class.

The traditional Senior Dinner Dance was held on May 15, 1954, at Ross Hall in Germantown. As the final note of the traditional "Good Night Sweetheart" drifted away at the conclusion of the affair, we realized that we had at last reached the finale of our social activities as students of La Salle. The seniors and their wives and sweethearts, and our honored guests enjoyed an evening that will long be remembered.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE SENIOR CLASS

The Class of 1954 will shortly make the transition from the ranks of the undergraduates to the ranks of the alumni.

This transition is both obvious and automatic. But we are wondering with what facility the transition will be accomplished. We are wondering if the Class of 1954 will be merely names to add to the addressograph plates, or whether the Class of 1954 will take its place in the Alumni Association as a vigorous, dynamic unit capable of contributing concrete help in the task of perserving and embellishing the reputation of La Salle College.

As members of the graduating class you are well aware of the fact that you have set an admirable precedent. You are the first class in the history of the Evening Division to elect senior officers, and to form a working senior organization. For this accomplishment, we offer our sincere congratulations.

But, gentlemen, we entreat you to utilize this organization to its fullest possible advantage when you become part of the Alumni. You have established a sturdy framework, it now remains to build upon it when you graduate. Don't be content to be merely names, be a voice.

Though you may not be presently aware of it, you will learn that the awarding of a degree from La Salle College has many ramifications. The awarding of a degree means, for instance, that a three-fold responsibility is imposed upon you. This responsibility encompasses primarily, your school. Henceforth, you must always conduct yourselves in a manner that will reflect nothing but credit upon the name of La Salle.

Next, this responsibility extends to your fellow alumni, and finally to all undergraduates of La Salle, present and future.

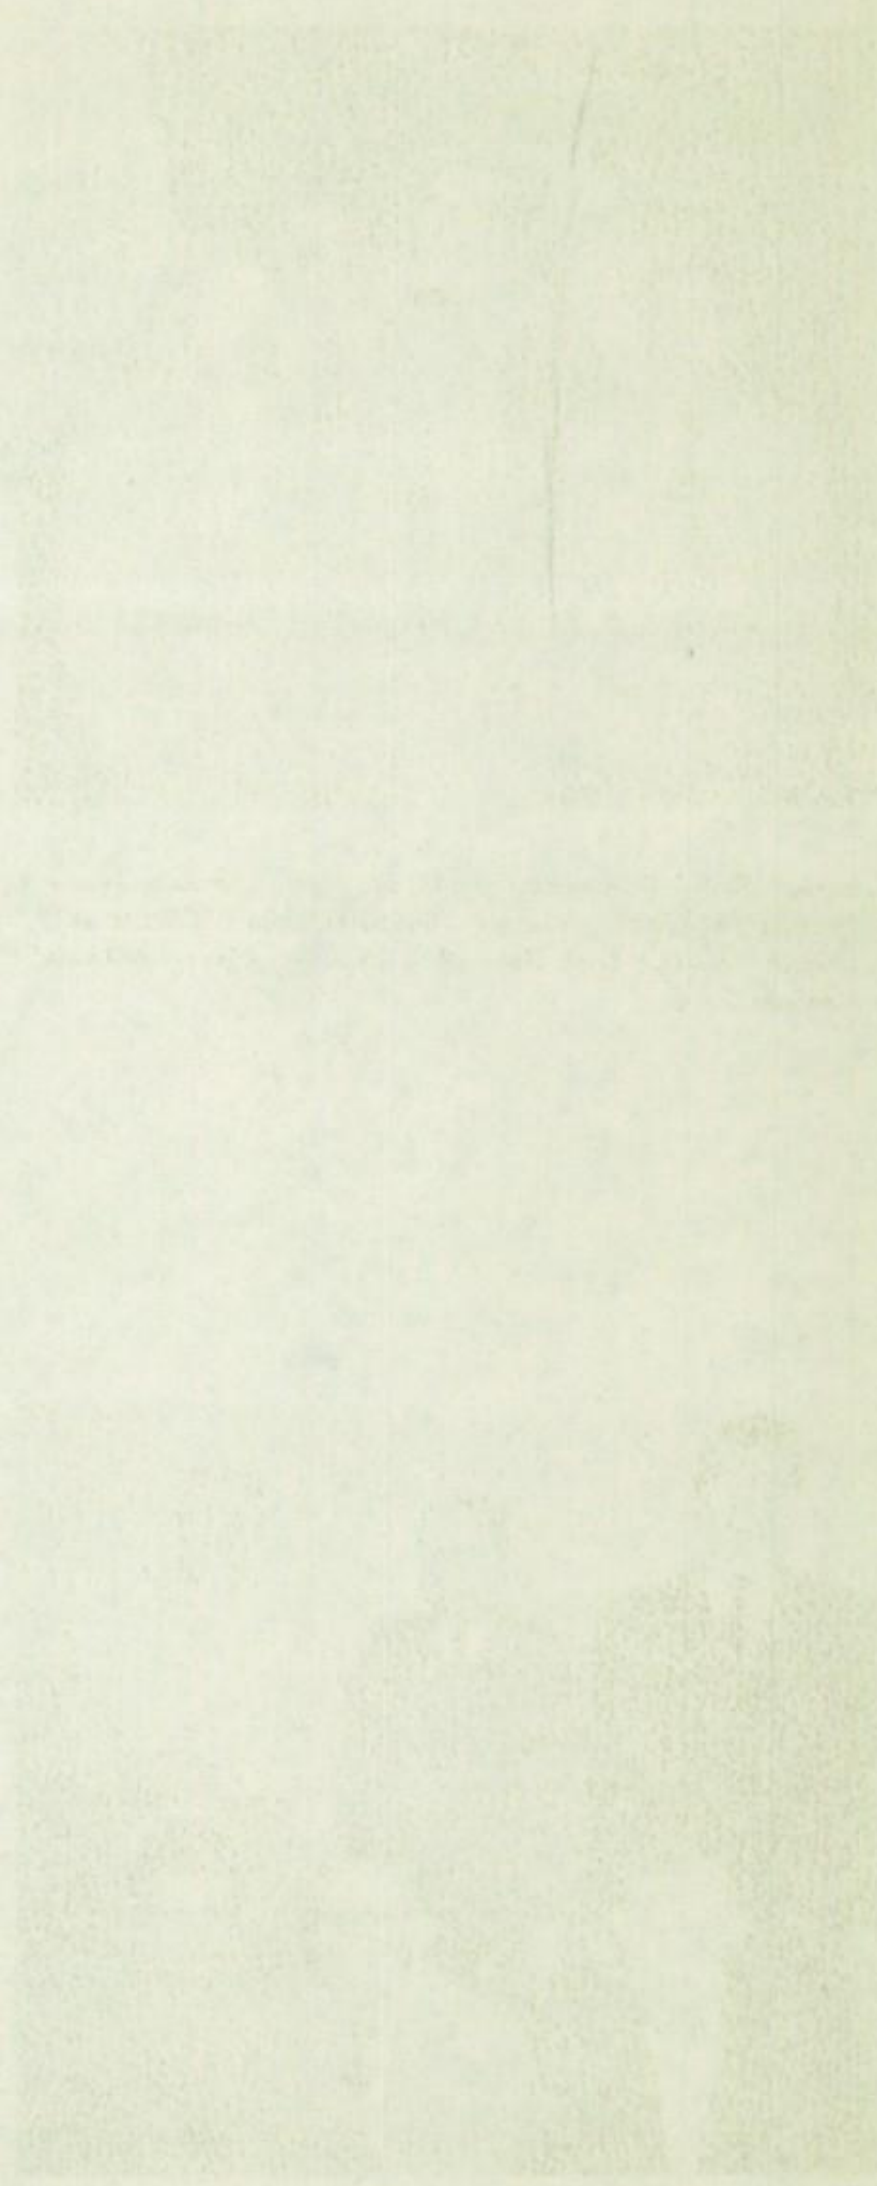

You can best meet this responsibility by fostering a strong alumni association. Make this association even more valuable by bringing to it a unified organization dedicated to wholehearted participation in all activities.
